ONE DEAD, ONE HURT. Gerald J. DeMontmollin, 36, of 2843 Myrtle Ave., lost his life while a passenger in this 1974 Corvette driven by his brother, Dennis C. DeMontmollin, 35, of Ferguson, Mo., who was in serious condition at St. Louis University Hospitals. The auto was involved in a crash with a four-wheel drive customized pickup truck operated by Todd W. Baumeier, 20, of 2591 Lynch Ave., in the 4900 block of Maryville Road at 1:30 a.m. Saturday. Dennis DeMontmollin was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol and improper lane usage.

Driver's brother dies in Maryville Rd. crash

Gerald J. DeMontmollin, 36, of 2843 Myrtle Ave., a passenger in a car driven by his brother, was killed in a two-vehicle crash at 1:30 a.m. Saturday in the 4900 block of Maryville Road, near Route 203.

Mr. DeMontmollin was one of two men trapped inside the wreckage of a 1974 Corvette and was pronounced dead at the scene at 2:45 a.m. Saturday, Sept. 24, 1983, by Madison County Deputy Coroner William Sternberg.

The driver, Dennis C. DeMontmollin, 35, of 1589 Knollway, Ferguson, Mo., formerly of Granite City, was seriously injured and was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center. He later was transferred to St. Louis University hospitals, where he was listed in serious condition.

Todd W. Baumeier, 20, of 2591 Lynch Ave., told officers he was driving his 1979 customized pickup truck south in the 4900 block of Maryville Road when he saw the DeMontmollin auto rounding a curve and heading north in the southbound lanes.

He said the Corvette moved back into the northbound lanes, but alleged the driver again crossed into the southbound lanes in front of the truck. He was unable to avoid the ensuing collision, Baumeier told police.

It appeared the other driver lost control of the car on the curve, Baumeier said. Reports noted that debris was found in the southbound lanes.

Both Gerald and Dennis DeMontmollin were trapped inside the Corvette and, at first, both men appeared to be unconscious, reports said.

Dennis DeMontmollin was extricated from the vehicle by the Granite City Fire Department's rescue squad and was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Due to circumstances preceding the accident and other alleged indications at the scene, a blood sample was requested at the SEMC emergency room and Dennis DeMontmollin was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol. He also was charged with improper lane usage.

Baumeier also was injured, but reports did not state if he was taken to the medical center for treatment.

Mr. Gerald DeMontmollin, a lifelong resident of Granite City, was the father of two sons. Additional details may be found on today's obituary page.

Public comments are sought at hearing on Lansdowne's future

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH of the Press-Record

Residents currently served by the Lansdowne sewage treatment plant will give their input into future sewage treatment plan of the Metro-East Sanitary District (MESD) at a 7:30 p.m. public hearing tonight at the Madison Fire Hall on Third Street next to the Madison City Hall.

Two alternative plans are being considered for the Lansdowne area. The first is to abandon the Lansdowne sewage treatment plant and reroute the wastewater being treated at the Lansdowne plant to Granite City's regional treatment plant, which already has primary and secondary treatment. The second option is to upgrade the existing Lansdowne plant to a secondary facility.

Some suggest costlier option

Area residents that will be affected by the results of this study are those that live in the municipalities of Brooklyn, Caseyville, Fairmont City, Madison, National City, Venice, Washington Park and a part of East St. Louis. Also affected are residents in the unincorporated areas of Stites and Canteen townships and parts of Venice and Nemoak townships.

The engineering firm of Horner and Shiffrin, Inc., St. Louis, was in charge of the study. Costs, operations and maintenance were all considered in an effort to establish which plan would be more cost-effective.

An upgrading of the treatment currently done at Lansdowne was called for by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA). The plant currently performs a primary treatment of sewage before it is discharged into the Mississippi River. IEPA standards have determined that this single treatment no longer fulfills federal effluent requirements.

According to John Lauth, representative for Horner and Shiffrin, the Granite City alternative (rerouting the sewage to Granite City's plant) would cost $5.8 million. This plan would include the installation of a Lansdowne pumping station, a new Venice pump-

Strengthens school curriculum

Tougher high school standards await Illinois students in the class of 1988 and later years.

Gov. James R. Thompson said Thursday he has signed legislation—with changes—adding course requirements, that must be met to receive a diploma.

Under House Bill 1179, students entering Illinois high schools next fall will have to enroll in three years of language arts, two years of mathematics, one year of science and two years of social sciences, plus a choice of one year of either music, art or foreign language studies.

Thompson changed the bill to allow students to take one year of computer technology instruction to complete half of their math requirement.

He also added vocational education classes to the selection of mandated music, art or foreign language courses students must take.

Lawmakers will meet next month to consider the revisions, made under amendatory veto power.

Discussing the stricter graduation requirements, the governor said, "As I traveled the state in the past year, education was an area where there was much concern. This legislation addresses some of our needs."

Neither the State Education Board's findings nor national studies oppose requiring that children study certain things in school, and President Reagan's Commission on Excellence calls for even more strenuous requirements than these.

VA may move to GC depot

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH of the Press-Record

The Veterans Administration (VA) is considering moving its record center to the Granite City Army Installation from the present VA location in St. Louis.

The plan would involve a trade-off of office space between the Army and the VA. It would affect 28 VA employees moving here and about 1,000 Army personnel transferred within buildings in St. Louis.

Chuck Lucas, public affairs officer for the Department of Veterans' Benefits, said Friday that the proposal for the move is being considered by Administrator of Veterans Affairs Harry N. Walters. He said he expects a decision within the next 10 days. "I don't know for certain if the move will be approved, but I would say the plan was being considered very favorably," said Lucas.

The plan for the move was first taken into consideration in May of this year and was later recommended by Dorothy Scharback, chief benefits director of the VA.

The VA records office currently occupies about 300,000 square feet in Building 104 of the Federal Center, located at 4300 Goddell. The office maintains records for nearly 15 million armed service veterans.

Jim Wittmeyer, representative for the Army public affairs office, said the VA is trying to initiate a move so that the Army can use the space the VA workers are occupying.

The Directorate for Maintenance of the Troop Support and Aviation Materiel Readiness Command currently is located in Building 110 at the Federal Center in St. Louis. The group employs about 1,000 Army personnel. However, the building will be undergoing a renovation shortly and the agencies housed in it will have to relocate.

The Army has proposed that the group from Building 110 be moved to Building 104, both in St. Louis.

"I know it sounds impossible for 1,000 employees to be put in a space once occupied by 85 employees, but the VA utilizes a lot of filing cabinets in its

School debt still growing

By BILL WINTER of the Press-Record

How can Granite City schools reduce their yearly costs by $3.9 million and still boost rather than cut taxation? The answer is a widely-discussed debt "elephant" that District Nine is still trying to swallow.

The 1982-83 year's imbalance between receipts and spending was $4,757,122. Nearly 200 employee dismissals and the closing of one-third of the 18 schools in June 1983 lowered annual costs by almost $4 million, but not by $4,757,122.

As of June 30, 1983, education fund tax anticipation warrants totaled $7,657,000. Finance Director Norman S. Owca told the Board of Education last week that the schools may have to increase borrowing by $1,689,352, to as much as $9,346,352 on June 30, 1984.

In other words, despite adopting sharp budget cutbacks and freezing the teacher salary schedule at the '82-83 level, the district may be $1,689,352 farther away next year than it is now from the goal of starting to reverse its financial slide.

Tax borrowing two years into the future will continue and perhaps grow, it was indicated.

By not spending about $900,000 in the new $27,108,727 budget, it may be possible to come within $100,000 or $200,000 of a one-year balance, Owca said, providing that the state actually does provide aid of $700,000 in June 1984. Forwarding of the aid has been delayed by the state, which has been experiencing its own revenue slump.

Supt. B. J. Davis had a glum look on his face last week when Illinois House Majority Leader Jim McFike told a Granite City breakfast gathering that the state's temporary income tax increase will be allowed to expire next June.

The increase has been credited with slightly easing Illinois school systems' revenue outlook this year, but next year there will have to be still another round of "belt tightening," McFike forecast.

Owca said the board last spring voiced hope that an income-outgo balance could be attained in 1983-84, with some of the debt then being retired in 1984-85 if spending obligations could be restrained. '84-85 is a year in which fewer school-closing costs (including jobless pay and severance pay) will have to be borne.

As to an actual ending of operating debt—projected at more than $8 million as of ten months from now—Board Member Dewey Melton said last week's meeting that this may be extremely difficult or even impossible to attain within the foreseeable future.

Member Monroe Worthen said community and national economic recovery might make a break-even year possible in 1983-84, but he acknowledged that breaking even would not retire or decrease the debt.

Reviewing the pressure to cut costs, on one hand, and the simultaneous pressure to avoid staff layoffs and larger class sizes, on the other hand, the 234th-year board member concluded, "You cannot have it both ways."

Administrators say that, nevertheless, the board deserves applause for (a) preserving existing educational quality and opportunities, (b) reducing annual costs $3.9 million; (c) "holding the line" on the $3.45 school tax rate, and (d) avoiding circumstances under which Granite City schools might have had to go bankrupt and close before a school year had been completed.

Sewer work hits snag

Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler said Friday that the city will have to rely more heavily than expected on its own funds to repair several sewer breaks.

His announcement came after a letter was received from the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA). The agency denied the city's plan to use $300,000 in Community Development Job Bill funds to cover the FEMA 75 percent grant to repair 13 sewer breaks.

The FEMA grant of $473,000 will have to be matched now with more than $100,000 from the city's General Fund budget.

"We're going to be limited in fixing sewers by the number of dollars available," Schuler said. "Right now it's pretty near nothing."

In the past, other municipalities have been able to use Community Development funds to match other grants, but such practices are prohibited by FEMA regulations.

The city currently is advertising for bids to repair eight sewer breaks. It is unable to repair itself. The mayor said the bids are due to be opened Oct. 11.

"At that time, we'll have a much better indication of how to proceed," Schuler said.

The sewer repair work received another setback last week when FEMA officials notified Mayor Schuler there had been a mixup in the paperwork concerning the city's appeal for funding to cover sewer breaks prior to December 1982.

The city had expected an answer on that situation last week, after waiting since May 31 for an answer. Schuler said the work cannot start on those breaks until a federal decision on funding is made.

Estimated bills due to strike

Residents throughout the Quad-City area are receiving estimated water bills due to a contract dispute that has resulted in six unions refusing to go back to work for Illinois-American Water Co.

Although only two of the six unions are actually on strike, four other labor organizations have refused to cross the picket lines.

According to Robert Jackson, plant manager for the water company office here, there are no contract disputes with employees at the Granite City office. However, two unions at the Belleville office currently have no contracts. These unions are Laborers' Local 459 of Belleville and Local 100 of East St. Louis.

Members of these striking unions are picketing the Granite City office and four unions representing employees of the local office are honoring these picket lines.

These unions include Machinists' District 9, Operating Engineers' Local 2, Office and Professional Workers' (Continued on Page 5)

2 Quad-Cityans graduate SIUC

Summer commencement exercises were conducted Aug. 6 for approximately 2,400 degree candidates at Southern Illinois University-Carbondale.

Summer graduates heard an address by John E. King, retiring chairman of SIUC's Department of Higher Education and former president of the University of Wyoming and Emporia (Kan.) State University.

Degrees were conferred by SIUC President Albert Somit on Quad-Cityans Brenda Ann Wright Jr., 1988 Spring Ave. bachelor of science and associate of applied science, and Kim Karrene Bennett, 1525 Market St., Madison, associate of applied science.

Pro athletes' attitude saddens commentator

Gus Kyle is still an enthusiastic sports fan after many years as a professional athlete, coach, executive and commentator, but he is not enthusiastic about the attitude of many of today's "overpaid, underworked" pro stars.

"Telling it like it is" in an address to Granite City Rotarians last week, the St. Louis ice hockey Blues commentator attributed this year's baseball Cardinals collapse and last year's Blues problems to the presence of some athletes who give "less than 110 percent" effort.

Kyle teams with Dan Kelly, radio voice of the Blues, to broadcast the ice hockey games. He indicated he may help air the home contests this year but not the road games.

The speaker assailed the way Ralston-Purina disposed of the Blues, including no participation in the player draft this year, and praised the new owner, Harry Stein, a former ice hockey referee and baseball umpire.

Although hockey players typically receive a salary of several hundred thousand dollars a year each, Kyle thinks the Blues can be made profitable if there is active public and corporate backing. Some arena costs, such as air-conditioning, may have been charged to the Blues budget rather than the arena's budget, he commented.

The key to a return to capacity crowds, Kyle said, is to get the Blues back to the top of the food chain.

Athletes who gave the Blues the second best National Hockey League team record several years ago have themselves to blame for failing to continue to play to their maximum potential, the Rotary club was told.

Kyle played with the New York Rangers in the 1940s.

Seek members for Choral Society

The Community Choral Society of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is accepting new members for the 1983-84 season, according to Leonard Van Camp, director of choral activities at SIUE.

The director is inviting students, faculty, staff and anyone in the community to join.

The first rehearsal will be Tuesday in Room 1402 of the Peck Building. Rehearsals will be conducted each Tuesday. New members will be accepted until the third rehearsal.

Van Camp will lead the group in what he says will be "a most exciting season."

"We have a first class chorus. Most of our members have previous choral experience and read music fairly well; but they all have the essential item we are looking for—a love of singing," he said.

The choral society gives a series of three performances a year. Handel's "Messiah" will be performed at Edwardsville High School on Dec. 4 to start the season.

On March 5, the choral society will perform "Oldies but Goodies: The Choral Music We Grew Up On," in the Communications Building Theater.

On May 24 and 25, the choral society will conclude the series with Cherubini's "Requiem" and Anton Bruckner's "Te Deum" in the Communications Building Theater.

For additional information, interested persons may call the music department at 1-692-3900 or Leonard Van Camp at 1-692-2024.

TWO COUNTY ZONING HEARINGS IN MAY

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals will conduct two on-site public hearings in Namekik Township Friday, Sept. 30.

The first hearing will begin at 9 a.m. Friday along Route 162 near the intersection of State Afd 35 where Margaret Vanyo and Walter Schmidt are requesting rezoning of a tract of land from agricultural zoning to a B-3 highway business district.

At 9:30 a.m. Friday, the board will move to 3319 West Point, in State Park Place, where Barbara and Edward Lasich are seeking a special use permit to place a single-wide mobile home on the lot.

BROKEN, ABANDONED AUTOMOBILE LOOTED

Robert Nikonovich, 2463 Adams St., left his automobile parked on the shoulder of Route 3 while he left to get help to repair the broken car, and returned six hours later to discover someone had taken the battery, audiovox converter, tool set, a laboratory book, laboratory materials, his wallet and a checkbook.

Entry was gained through the passenger side door which was locked, according to the report given to the Venice Police.

Sanitary district guards equipment

By PAUL GUSE

Samuel Bell sat alone in his Camaro at the end of a levee road. His only companion was his portable radio, a stack of newspapers, and his camera.

Occasionally he glanced at the yellow bulldozer sitting about 100 yards down the road.

Bell is being paid $4 an hour to sit and watch the tractor, owned by the Metro-East Sanitary District. Some farmers in the area don't like it.

Some other people don't, either. One woman, who called to complain, contends that the bulldozer is never used.

"Farmers come by and get mad that I'm just watching the tractor," Bell said. "They think I should be driving the thing instead of just watching it. I guess they think it is a waste of taxpayers' money."

Bell is watching the bulldozer because of a rash of vandalism and thefts of equipment that have plagued the sanitary district recently.

"We have been vandalized and robbed to death around here," said Walter Greathouse, president of the district. "The amount taken from us has to be in the tens of thousands of dollars."

Bell was hired to protect a site on State Aid 35 about two months ago, after the bulldozer and an excavator were vandalized and stripped. A total of $5,000 damage was done to the two machines.

"They just took the machines," Bell said. Greathouse said, "They took tools, hoses, gas lines, a starter, and the batteries. And they broke the plexiglass top of the excavator by dropping a load of bricks through it."

The excavator has since been moved to the district's garage for repairs. The security was placed at the site in hopes that the culprits might return to the scene of the crime. In the beginning, Greathouse assigned a 24-hour watch on the tractor. The watch has since been reduced to two shifts.

"When I'm paying them $4 an hour, I can't really expect them to sit through the night and maybe get killed," Greathouse said.

He said he makes spot checks of the equipment himself when a man is not on duty.

At locations where hired security is assigned, neighbors are asked to watch the equipment and to call the police if they see trouble.

It is necessary to leave the equipment at the site because of both time and cost limitations, according to Greathouse.

He said it takes two hours to transport a machine to a site, including loading and unloading time. The crews would lose four hours of worktime each day if the machines were moved.

The sanitary district does not own a "low-boy" trailer needed to transport bulldozers and other equipment. The hauling must be contracted out, which costs the district between $120 and $150 for each trip.

"It is much cheaper to pay someone $48 to watch the machine than it is to pay $300 to haul it each day," Greathouse said. "I'm committed to leaving the equipment out there."

He said the bulldozer hasn't been used in the past two weeks because the only person qualified to operate it has been ill. But he said the equipment would be back in operation in the next two days.

Meanwhile, the "bulldozer watch" goes on. "I can't get a nickle's worth of protection from anyone, so I have to protect them myself," Greathouse said. "It like going into battle. If I have to fight everyone in America, I'm going to get it (the vandalism) stopped."

"If I catch one, I don't care who he knows, he goes to jail. If he's the governor's son, he goes to jail."

Bell said he has not seen any foul play around the machine he is guarding. If he does, he will go to a pay phone to call the garage.

He said he would not try to capture or drive away vandals. "I'm not going to be the police for four bucks an hour," he said.

Disturbance ends in arrest

Called to the home of Eugene McCallister, 525 Filmore St., Venice, officers reported Tresha Robertson, 23, of 4005 Gaslight Walk, Pontiac Beach, was standing in the front yard at the residence, allegedly using loud and profane language.

McCallister said Miss Robertson came to the house, began shouting and allegedly pushed on the screen door. She refused to leave when requested by the residents and also when told by police, reports alleged.

Advised she was under arrest, Miss Robertson allegedly became combative and, in the ensuing scuffle, reportedly kicked Officer Timmy Simmons' left leg and pushed and shoved other officers.

Miss Robertson was charged with resisting arrest and disorderly conduct. She was released on a $104 cash bond.

PICKUP STOLEN

Scott A. Scholem of Detroit, Mich., reported his four-wheel drive Ford pickup was stolen from the parking area at Nash's Lounge, 3075 Nameoki Road. The vehicle was black with a camper shell. Clothing items were in the camper, he advised police.

HOUSING CAMPAIGN. Granite City Alderman Carl Kittel of the Third Ward, demonstrates housing conditions he believes show the need for a city minimum housing standards law. The front door (left) of the building, in the 2100 block of Adams Street, is partially torn open, exposing an empty apartment. Kittel (above) stands at the foot of dual basement entrances, which are missing both doors. In one basement section, water was dripping from occupied quarters above. Other conditions Kittel cited were a porch support beam suspended in mid-air and exposed trash in the back yard. City Building Inspector Michael DeRuntz, who had the landlord remedy a pigeon problem there, took photographs of the building for Kittel to give other aldermen. Kittel said a landlord could be taken to court for violating health conditions, but such a route is often a slow and unproductive experience. A past minimum housing ordinance studied by the council would prevent substandard apartments from being rented until they pass a required city inspection.

County will get $3.4 million from community development

Madison County has received notification from the Chicago area office of HUD (Department of Housing and Urban Development) that the recently submitted Community Development Block Grant application has been approved.

The county will receive $3,405,000 in Community Development Block Grant funds from HUD for the 1983-84 program year which will begin Oct. 1, 1983. As a comparison, Madison County received $3,468,000 for the current program year.

County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer attributes the decrease in funding primarily to reduced congressional appropriations, a revised allocation formula that shifts more funds to non-metropolitan areas, and the fact that several additional cities or counties now qualify for a share of the entitlement funds.

The program has been in existence for eight years, providing funds for housing rehabilitation loans and grants, economic development activities, water and sewer installation, surface drainage, parks and recreation, road and bridge construction and a variety of other capital improvement projects.

Number of bingo games is unchanged

As was pointed out in the Press-Record, the new bingo limit here is $3,250. The total number of games is unchanged.

A law which increases the prize limits for bingo sessions in Madison and St. Clair counties is effective immediately. Some reports on that bill said the newly authorized limit is $3,400.

That was the figure given in a similar bill, Senate Bill 29, which was not signed into law. The bill which was signed, House Bill 60, provides for a maximum limit in the two counties of $3,250.

The bill says, "The aggregate retail value of all prizes or merchandise awarded in any single day of bingo may not exceed $2,250, except that in adjoining counties having 200,000 or 275,000 inhabitants each, two additional bingo games may be conducted after the $2,250 limit has been reached. The prize awarded for any one game, including any game conducted after reaching the $2,250 limit as authorized in this paragraph, may not exceed $500 or its equivalent."

There has been no change in the number of games which may be played. The limit is still 25 games in any one day, except at the state fair or any county fair in Illinois.

Solid facts needed on treatment

We hope tonight's 7:30 public hearing at the Madison Fire Hall on future sewage treatment in the region brings out some facts and figures to help governmental bodies and the public make some serious decisions about an issue that is bound to cost the taxpayers and sewer users a great deal of money in the future.

At issue is whether the Lansdowne sewage treatment facility should be upgraded for secondary treatment, at a cost of $11.4 million (in today's dollars and bound to increase in future years), or whether the sewage should be rerouted to the Granite City treatment plant, which already has secondary treatment. The Granite City option would cost $5.6 million.

By our calculations, that is a difference of $5.6 million, or nearly double the cost of the Granite City option. That amount has to be made up by the sewer users and taxpayers (who, after all, are the source of funding for the federal grants).

Certainly, residents of Brooklyn, Caseyville, Fairmont City, Madison, National City, Venice, Washington Park, a part of East St. Louis and parts of Stites, Canteen, Venice and Nameoki townships could benefit by having all the taxpayers pay 75 percent of the cost of building a Rolls-Royce of a treatment plant for them to use.

However, it seems to us that paying twice as much for a new plant, rather than using the Granite City plant, which has the extra capacity, is, on the surface, questionable.

We don't claim to be experts. The engineering firm of Horner and Shifrin, Inc. is and their planners tell us that when costs, operations and maintenance are considered, the Lansdowne plan would be more cost effective in the long run.

We hope planners can show us at tonight's hearing how users can pay the same amount for treatment whether a $5.8 million plan or an $11.4 million plan are used.

We realize that the Granite City plant uses more electricity than the proposed Lansdowne improvement, but it takes a lot of electricity to make up the $5.6 million difference. Also, we understand that jobs are involved here. Closing the Lansdowne plant would put many people out of work, including some politicians.

We only hope sound decisions are reached on this important issue and sound decisions can only be reached if those making those decisions, and the public, have solid facts to use in their determinations.

Law makes travel less traumatic

We applaud Governor James Thompson and State Rep. Sam Wolf (D-Granite City) for adding Illinois to the list of states which have a compact to keep an out-of-state traffic violation from ruining a vacation.

Rep. Wolf sponsored the legislation adding Illinois to the Nonresident Violators Compact and the governor signed it this month, making Illinois the 31st state in the compact.

Every state bordering Illinois, except Wisconsin, now is a member.

What the compact means is that if an Illinois motorist traveling in any member state receives a traffic ticket for a minor offense, the motorist needs only sign the ticket and go on his way. No cash bond or jail time is necessary.

The secretary of state's office of the state where the ticket was issued will notify the Illinois secretary of state's office and the Illinois office then will notify the violator where and when to reply to the charges.

We support the bill because justice eventually is served. The driver must answer for the offense and pay any necessary fine, but will not be required to go through the ordeal of raising bond and perhaps waiting in jail in another state until someone can get bond to the motorist.

We hope this law is not seen as a loosening of the traffic laws. True, a speeding ticket in another state will not cause as much trauma as before, but the fines and penalties will remain the same.

We suggest motorists keep a copy of this editorial in their glove compartments, just in case they are stopped in a member state and the arresting officer does not know of the compact.

The Press-Record has requested a list of the 31 states in the compact and will print it as soon as the list is made available.

Wasteland idea creeps up again

"The person that said Granite City was 15 miles from the present location doesn't know where Granite City is," said Jim Wittmeyer, a representative of the public affairs office of the U.S. Army sums up an ongoing problem with the future development of this area.

Wittmeyer clearly makes the point in the front page story in today's Press-Record on a proposed move by the Veterans' Administration here that, indeed, too few Missourians have any direct knowledge of this community or area. He also says that when he has tried to get television news coverage at the depot in the past, he "may as well have told them to go to Katmandu," that's how far they think Granite City is.

It has been said before that to most Missourians, the Mississippi River seems 15 miles wide. Illinois is just some far away strange place with run down shacks and air pollution.

The image problem has cost us. We believe it cost us an airport at Columbia-Waterloo, and it may cost us a VA records office at the Granite City Army Installation.

Already, U.S. Rep. Robert A. Young (D-St. Louis County) has gone on record as being "really upset" with VA's plans to move to this side of the river, even though it will save the agency a great deal of money.

Young is quoted in the Globe-Democrat as saying, "We're not going to just let them move from 300,000 square feet without a firm justification." We sense between his words that he is saying what Missouri politicians said during the airport debate. We paraphrase, "We are not going to let anything move to the wasteland of Illinois if we can help it."

We have a serious image problem. While the Press-Record has no concrete ideas for resolving the problem, we suggest that all groups involved with the betterment of this community put on their "thinking caps" and try to come up with some idea how we can reach the people of Missouri and show them there is much more here than a wasteland.

Readers React

With the television networks premiering their new shows Quad-Cityans shopping at Crossroads Plaza recently were asked about this Fall's television offerings. Their reactions follow:

Lynn Riggs, Granite City

"I guess the new shows are alright. I like the new show We've Got It Made. It's about two bachelors who have a maid. It's pretty good. They're mostly sit-coms. Yes, I'd have to say that the shows are getting better."

Bob Sharp, Granite City

"I think the shows are getting better. I watched a new one the other day, the Love Connection on channel five. It's like the old Dating Game."

Mary Jane Dutchik, Granite City

"I haven't really watched any of them yet. I think programs are getting worse. There really isn't anything on any more worth watching except maybe the movies."

Ken Campbell, Granite City

"I'm not a TV watcher. But, I think they're getting better. They have to compete against cable television. The networks are getting more competitive. Their showing more recent movies for example."

Public should combat vandalism in GC parks

To the Editor:

First of all, I want to thank Paul Halbert and the Press-Record news, sports, advertising and support staff for their help and publicity given the Granite City Park District in its activities and programs.

The Park District has recently been hurt at several of its parks by vandals and thieves. Such things as graffiti on buildings and playground equipment, breaking and damaging new trees and bushes at West

Granite, Worthen and Wilson Parks, removing picnic table bench seats and tops, tearing wooden shingles off picnic table covers and roofing shingles off Worthen Park Concession buildings have occurred this past summer.

Basketball hoops have been stolen from Stearns Park, along with trees from West Granite Park and a complete set of light bulbs from the scoreboard at Worthen Park while also doing major damage to the scoreboard.

These items, as well as many other misdeeds, have cost the park district taxpayers money, in both labor and replacement of materials. The Board of Park Commissioners is doing everything possible to keep the costs down, not only to taxpayers, but also to participants of the park programs.

I sincerely ask that your readers please help the park district's efforts to combat these problems of vandalism and theft by calling the local police or Wilson Park office when seeing anything suspicious going on at any of the parks or facilities.

The only way to combat crime is to report what you know to the authorities, which will help make the community a much better place to live.

Drop in Madison crime is what is important

To the Editor:

In regards to Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk's comments, I feel that it is time to praise the police officers in stead of always making them his favorite whipping boys.

Mayor Sasyk states that he doesn't want anymore reports like the last one, however, the police officers should be praised for the 23 percent decrease in crime, instead of chastised, for lack of traffic arrests.

How does Mayor Sasyk expect the city to attract business if the work gets around that all he wants them to do is write traffic tickets. Soon the work would get around that Madison is a "speed trap."

If this is his idea of revitalization of the city, I am totally against the concept. Hate off to the Madison Police Department for a job well done.

I feel much better knowing that my wife and children can walk the streets of Madison safely with the decrease in crime.

The police officers must be doing something right.

Full pension benefits will be granted after 30 years, instead of 33.

Four charged in Red Fox burglary

Wesley Ware Jr., 17, of 106 Grandview St., Venice, and three juveniles are in custody in connection with last week's burglary of Bob's Red Fox Grocery, 420 Broadway, Venice, in which considerable damage also was inflicted inside the building.

Juvenile petitions also were filed against the younger boys, 16, 14 and 12, all from Venice, and they were sent to the Madison County Detention facility in Edwardsville.

Merchandise stolen from the store was valued at hundreds of dollars, but a cloth bag containing some coins and four Susan B. Anthony dollars were the only items recovered, Venice officers said.

Whitmer defends ambulance

Granite City Alderman Sam Whitmer, Second Ward, recently defended the city-run ambulance service, following statements by officials from surrounding municipalities that the service was too expensive.

Whitmer was critical of statements made by Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk and Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols that their dealings with Granite City have been unsatisfactory.

Those two cities are currently considering joining a regional sewer treatment system that would feed into the Granite City wastewater treatment plant.

In defense of the ambulance service, the alderman said total charges for ambulance service to the city of Venice from March 1979 to April 1982 had been $27,481.

By averaging those payments over a four-year period, the charges were $6,870 each year or $1.96 each year for each Venice resident, according to the alderman.

"Where in the world could they get anything cheaper?" he asked.

Madison currently is operating its own ambulance service, and Venice is served by Campbell Ambulance.

Granite City lost about $200,000 last year operating the service.

Volunteers help Boy Scout program work

"The Luebben family is a classic example of how volunteers make the United Way work for our community. Ron and Gertrude Luebben are both very active in the operations of the Cub Scouts of America," says Bill Terrell, president of the Tri-Cities Area United Way.

"The Cahokia Mound Council provides programs that will aid the youth of our community in becoming responsible adults. It provides training for volunteer leaders for the operation of Camp Sunnen Day Camp and for the development and production of programs vital to the Scouting organization," Terrell noted.

"Ron has been involved with the council since 1970. He has headed the Cub Leaders Roundtables, which provide valuable program ideas for Scout leaders and as the council's Cub Scouting chairman, was most recently in charge of the Cub Scout Day Camp experience involving over 400 Cub Scouts. In addition to his Scouting activities, Ron also finds the time to volunteer at St. Elizabeth Medical Center," Terrell added.

Luebben said, "My involvement with the Boy Scouts started with my three boys over 25 years ago. When I saw the good it did for them, I just naturally continued with the program to help others." He adds, "It's really selfishness on my part that I stay involved because it makes me feel so good."

JIM SEIZ

Gertrude is a member of the executive board of the Cahokia Mound Council and also serves on its Activities Committee. This past spring, she was chairman of the council's Scout-O-Rama, a public display of Scouting throughout the area. She is a past president of the Women's Scouters Reserve and also has, assisted with the Cub Scout Leaders Roundtables. Gertrude retired from the teaching profession in 1976, having taught for more than 23 years at McKinley School in the Granite City school system.

Jim Seiz also is a member of the Cahokia Mound Council Executive Board and is chairman of the Unihai District (the Quad-City area). As district chairman, Jim heads a group of key volunteers who do a variety of activities, including the training of adult leaders, fund raising, youth member activities, and coordination with partner organizations which use the Scouting Program.

Jim and his wife, Diane, are leaders in Cub Scout Pack 20, which is a partner organization in St. Margaret Mary Roman Catholic Church. Jim is past president of the Granite City Optimist Club and is secretary-treasurer of State Loan and Savings Association of Granite City.

BOY SCOUT VOLUNTEERS, Gertrude and Ron Luebben, are among the volunteers who help the United Way by helping in its member agencies.

Arrest GC couple in drug roundup

Brian K. Richardson, 20, and Hope Ellen Richardson, 17, both of 3037 Dale Ave., were arrested at home at 6 a.m. Wednesday on suppressed indictments issued by the St. Louis Police Department on charges of one count each of the sale of a controlled substance.

Granite City officers accompanied St. Louis detectives to the couple's apartment early Wednesday as part of an area-wide pre-dawn sweep of suspected narcotics dealers.

By late afternoon Wednesday, the roundup had resulted in the arrest of 36 suspected drug dealers, mostly from St. Louis.

The St. Louis Police Department's vice-narcotics division are seeking more than 50 people for 135 felony counts of sales, including 36 grand jury indictments, it was learned.

St. Louis undercover detectives spent $15,000 during the six-month investigation which prompted the mass arrests of suspects, beginning at 5:30 a.m. Wednesday. Following their arrest, the Richardsons were taken to Granite City police headquarters and interviewed by two St. Louis detectives.

The couple was in the Granite City court at 10 a.m. today and were expected to waive extradition proceedings prior to their release to St. Louis authorities, a local detective advised.

Enters innocent plea to battery

James E. Moore, 48, of 2050 Edwardsville Road, pleaded innocent to battery in an appearance before Associate Judge Thomas E. Hildebrand at Granite City Police Department. Bond was set at $2,500 and he was transferred Wednesday morning to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

In an earlier court appearance the same day, Moore was sentenced to serve seven days in the county jail on a contempt citation for failure to appear in court for a hearing on a charge of driving while his driver's license was suspended. The charge was contained in a citation issued to the Illinois State Police.

The alleged battery occurred about 12:10 a.m. Tuesday and was reported by Sally A. Aitken of the 2000 block of Edwardsville Road, who waved down a Madison police officer in the area and told of being beaten by a man. A Granite City officer then took over the case and noted the woman was bleeding from her nose and mouth.

Mrs. Aitken was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where she was treated for a broken nose. She also had discoloration below both eyes and a swollen right cheek.

She alleged a man, later identified as Moore, entered the bedroom of her mobile home uninvited, made threats against her and hit her head and face with his fists.

She ran into the bathroom, where Moore allegedly cornered her and continued the beating. She struck her head on the bathtub when he knocked her to the floor, she alleged.

Moore was arrested on the ISP warrant at 2:15 a.m. Tuesday at Niedringhaus Avenue and State Street and the charge of battery was filed later.

DAV announces new veteran legislation

Andrew Gitchoff, commander of Quad-Cities Chapter 53, Disabled American Veterans, reported to the members at the September meeting that two important pieces of legislation were recently enacted into law. (1) An emergency jobs training act (PL-98-77) signed into law on Aug. 16, 1983, and effective Oct. 1, 1983.

The law affects Korean and Vietnam veterans only and provides up to 9 months of on-the-job training. The VA will pay 50 percent of the veterans starting wages up to $10,000 per veteran to help defray training costs.

Veterans with 30 percent or more disability are eligible for a maximum of 15 months training, and those with 10 and 20 percent ratings may also qualify for a longer period of training if it is determined that they have a serious employment handicap.

Specific guidelines for the implementation of the law have not been issued and it is suggested that interested veterans and employers contact the VA for details.

The second law, PL-98-76, affects railroad retirees benefits, became effective Sept. 1, 1983. This legislation was sponsored by Rep. James Oberstar (D-Minn.) who recognized that service-connected disability compensation is a payment to the veteran for his loss in earning power.

Railroad retirees were paying twice for their military service, once in lost wages and again in lost railroad retirement benefits. This is the only private sector employees to suffer such a loss. Railroad retirees are not required to take any action to affect the change in their benefits, adjustments will automatically be made beginning this month, Gitchoff said.

Larry Lockhart reported that he has been informed that the VA has ordered new voluntary examinations for all former prisoners of war (POWs) whose claims for service-connected disability benefits were decided after Oct. 1, 1981, and received unfavorable action by the VA. The DAV is strongly urging all affected ex-POWs to contact the National Service office in Chicago before complying with the request for re-examination by the VA. The new examinations are NOT MANDATORY, the commander noted.

A National Service Officer (NSO) can be reached by calling (312) 353-3960. However, the veteran must name the DAV as his power-of-attorney on a signed VA form 2322 before he can be represented before the VA by the DAV. Both Larry Lockhart and Bob Pine can provide the form 2322 and they can be reached Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the John Cochrane VA Hospital (VAH) by calling (314) 632-4100, extension 306.

It was reported that Forest Swan has been released from the hospital. Thomas Thomason is confined to John Cochrane VA Hospital.

Robert Kennerly is confined to SEMC, and that Raleigh Paul died early in September.

Donations were approved for the Tri-City Area United Fund; to the Senior Citizens coffee and donut funds, to the Parents for Special Education, and to a group of Madison County Drug abuse contestants who engaged in a contest sponsored by the Tri-City Area Chamber of Commerce. The donation to the Chamber of Commerce will fund several contest winners to a ball game at Busch Stadium on Oct. 1, it was noted.

Don Moore, commander of St. Louis County Chapter 53, announced that the chapel at Jefferson Barracks Cemetery will be rededicated on Sunday, Oct. 2nd, at 2 p.m. following the completion of the refurbishing of the chapel. He requested that chapter officers be present with their colors and all other members who wish to attend will be welcome he said.

Lunch was served following the meeting.

Ruby M. Benefield, 50, of 1924 Johnson Road, was arrested last week on a warrant alleging failure to appear in court on a retail theft charge.

MECHANIC WORKING ON CAR IS INJURED

George Hicks, Pocahontas, Ill., a mechanic at Bob Cann's service station, 2280 Nameoki Road, was hurt last week, when the parked auto of Abraham Tolosian, 2878 Idaho Ave., started its own engine and backed against Cann's parked tow truck.

The car was unoccupied except for Hicks, who was lying half in and half out of the auto while he worked to repair ignition wiring. The left door was open and it was this door that caught against the tow truck; the car's momentum was halted, enabling the surprised Hicks to reach up and shut off the engine.

DREW KARANDJEFF
President
GRANITE CITY TRUST

O: I am considering the establishment of a trust for my grandson to become effective after I die. I have been advised by a friend that I should establish a living trust instead. What are the advantages?

A: A revocable living trust will provide a number of benefits. Investment management, for example, which will allow you, if you wish, to participate in the decision making aspect of the manner in which your trust is invested. After your death, a living trust will continue to benefit those you name as beneficiaries without the long delays associated with probate of an estate. Living trusts are also a more private matter than testamentary trusts (those which become effective after death of the person establishing the trust.) They are a matter between you, your trustee (in most cases your banker) and your beneficiaries. Testamentary trusts, as part of your will, become matters of public record. There are a number of other benefits associated with a living trust, which you may want to discuss, in detail, with a trust officer at your bank.

Democratic committeemen endorse Allen

Granite City Democratic Precinct Committeemen voted unanimously Wednesday to endorse Dick Allen for the Democratic candidate for Madison County state's attorney.

Bill Harrison, chairman of the committee, said Allen requested the endorsement. He said Allen has the necessary credentials for the position. "Allen is a lawyer, which is one of the requirements for the position, and he's a very good lawyer."

Joe Williams, also a member of the Democratic committee, said the unanimous endorsement was no surprise to him. "We think he's the best man for the job and he's also a Democrat."

Williams said he plans to help Allen get elected by getting people to vote. "I think people have had enough of the Republicans, so we'll be campaigning to get the Republicans out of office and getting a Democrat in office."

Allen said he was "pleased" that his endorsement had been unanimous. "I think it's important to have your home town behind you."

Allen will be seeking a Democratic primary victory which would pit him against the Republican primary winner, most likely the incumbent, Republican Don Weber.

Primary elections are scheduled for next spring. Allen is a former assistant state's attorney who unsuccessfully sought the same nomination in 1980. He lost, however, to the then incumbent, Nicholas G. Byron. Byron subsequently was defeated by Weber.

BICYCLIST INJURED IN MADISON CRASH

A collision Sunday at 7 p.m. at the intersection of Rhodes Street and McNair Avenue, between Bruce Briley, 20, of Troy, Ill., and Marshall Coleman, 11, of 1050 Washington Ave., resulted in the Coleman boy being taken, by ambulance, to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment of minor injuries.

Briley was operating a motorcycle and the youngster was on a pedal bike. According to police, the bicycle did not have any safety reflectors or lights and the motorcyclist said he could not see the child.

Juvenile home still has deficit

By JIM WOODCOCK
A portion of the Madison County juvenile detention home's surplus of federal revenue sharing funds will go toward its current budget deficit after all — but the detention home still finds itself in a financial bind.

The county finance committee okayed $11,565 of detention home superintendent Darrell McGibany's $21,000 request. However, the committee decided not to vote on his request of $9,435 for "nonpersonnel" items.

The committee agreed not to vote on such a large amount without committee chairman Bill Little, Alton, in attendance.

County Director of Administration Mary Kane said the $9,435 request would be turned around as a 60-month contract, down with Little voting.

In the past, Little has backed the county's current policy of using federal revenue sharing money for capital expenditures only, not for operating expenses.

The committee approved $11,565 of the federal revenue sharing surplus for air-conditioning and ceiling repairs, a 60-month contract for a copy machine, and items for the home's auxiliary generator.

The committee, according to committee member Fred Dalton, "are consistent with the capital expenditures we've gone with in the past."

The $9,435 request, according to a letter from McGibany, would go toward medical, cleaning and laundry supplies, and various repairs.

With the latter request put on the back burner, Miss Kane said the detention home deficit is still crippling operations there.

"What was approved is just a portion of the budget for what they need," she said. "Their deficit is still going to be around $20,000 even with the funds they got today."

The juvenile home has already laid off employees during the 1983 fiscal year. McGibany said he thought, using the $21,000 surplus of federal revenue sharing was the sensible thing to do in order to take pressure off the detention home's deficit.

The $21,000 was created when a lock and security system was purchased by the detention home fell well short of the estimated cost of $35,000.

County Auditor Arthur "Pete" Fields said the detention home is going to have to improve its financial picture or it hopes to remain solvent.

"The home is going to have to make some hard decisions," Fields said. "They may have some alternatives if they don't get the money they need, but I don't know how successful they're going to be."

Committee member Don McLean agreed with Fields but added that "we are going to have to start reviewing some of these budgets three months into the fiscal year rather than six months."

"I'm not picking on McGibany, but some people aren't putting in any programs that will get them through the year."

In other finance committee action, a request from Sheriff Emil Toftant to advertise for a new mini-van for the sheriff's department was approved. The van will be purchased with federal revenue sharing money.

The committee also listened to budget requests from the Madison County highway department and the 708 mental health board for 1984 fiscal year, which begins Dec. 1, 1983.

Highway department Superintendent Dave Dietrich requested a $6.92 million budget for the 1984 year, an increase of less than .01 percent if approved, the total increase would be $58,000.

Mental health board chairman Walter Zahalsky requested a budget of $1.95 million, $100,000 of which would be used to establish a reserve pool over a five-year period.

STEAL 6 TIRES
Six tires valued at $600 were stolen from two tractor-trailer trucks owned by the M.C. Slater Trucking, while the vehicles were parked at the rear of Nesco Steel Barrel, 17th Street and Cleveland Boulevard, it was reported at 4:15 p.m. Friday by the plant manager.

Gridders stymie Kahoks; win first game, 10-0

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER

GRANITE CITY — There was one reason why Granite City High School's football team defeated Collinsville 10-0 Friday night at Memorial Stadium.

Enthusiasm.

The Warriors' enthusiasm, instilled by Granite City High School's "fire up" football coach Tom Wyrostek, was the main reason the Warriors blanked Collinsville in the gridiron slugfest.

"Before we can win, we've got to believe we can. That's part of the reason we won tonight, because of enthusiasm and we're beginning to believe in ourselves," Wyrostek told reporters after the game.

The Warrior coach also cited the Granite City fans' support as a reason for the Warrior victory.

"We got our tails beat last week right here," Wyrostek said about last week's Belleville West's 41-0 trouncing of the Warriors. "But I'll be damned if that grandstand wasn't filled again this week. We're got some loyal fans. And that's what it's got to be. We've got to turn this thing around. It all has to do with enthusiasm."

While enthusiasm was working magic for Wyrostek and the Warriors, it was enthusiasm, or more over the lack of it, which doomed Collinsville.

"It's that lack of enthusiasm which is troubling Kahok Coach Ed Eschman."

"We've got some good, dedicated kids out this year," Eschman said. "They just have to get into the game. They just have to score points. When they do that, then maybe we'll win some ball games."

Eschman said part of his team's problems this year stem from inexperience. Eschman explained that of the 38 athletes he has on his team, 18 of them are first-year athletes or have never played varsity football before.

"That's really a big part of it, inexperience. Inexperience and apathy," Eschman said. "We've got a school of 2,000 students. You'd think we'd have more than we do out for football with a school our size. The one that's out here are playing their hearts out while others just don't care."

"The loss was a difficult one for the Kahoks — a mortal wound. But the shutout, well, that rubbed salt into the wound."

Coming into Friday's contest, Eschman set two goals for his team, which is now 0-3 on the season.

First, Eschman knew the Kahoks' defense had to perform if his team was to compete. Secondly, if the defense performed, Eschman was hoping that some of that performance would rub off on the offense.

Collinsville's defense kept its promise, holding Granite City scoreless in the second half, but the offense was another matter.

"Before we can win, we've got to believe we can. That's part of the reason we won tonight, because of enthusiasm and we're beginning to believe in ourselves."

Tom Wyrostek
Warrior football coach

For the third time in as many games, the Kahoks' offense failed to produce a touchdown, even one touchdown. The net result was a shutout and its third loss of the season.

Although the Kahoks' offense failed to put the points on the board, there were glistering moments grandeur.

Led by quarterback Tim Pickering and runningback Chuck Hayden, the Kahoks' offense ran more offensive plays than Granite City did, 58-55. And in doing so, Collinsville picked up more first downs, six to five. Still, though, it was the Warriors which mustered the most offensive yardage, 93-79.

Friday night, the Kahoks' offense was its own worst enemy. On three occasions, just when Collinsville was mounting an offense, the Kahoks were penalized severely, taking away its drive.

The Kahoks were penalized five times for 67 yards. Most costly, and just when it seemed things were beginning to click, were the three penalties they suffered for having ineligible receivers downfield.

In the early going of the game, neither team dominated. Granite City's running back John Kindie and Collinsville's Chuck Hayden battled for yardage, as each team was incapable of sustaining a drive.

After Granite City's second unsuccessful possession, Terry Rujawitz punted the ball away and that's when Granite City got the first break of the ballgame.

Collinsville's Bob Bean, attempting to field the punt, bobbed and lost the last reception. Eric Graves recovered the fumble on Collinsville's eight yard line.

After a running play that gained little and two incomplete passes, Granite City was forced to settle for Graves' 25 yard field goal. The 160-pound junior split the uprights with just 1:53 remaining in the first quarter.

Collinsville came roaring back on its ensuing possession as Pickering completed a seven-yard pass to Trey Cook. But unfortunately for the Kahoks, it was called back as the Kahoks were charged with the first of their three ineligible receivers penalties.

"The penalties hurt us as much as anything," Eschman said. "Not only are we penalized, but we lose the reception and face a 1 and 25 situation. It's tough to come back after that."

Collinsville tried to battle back with running plays to David Ledbetter and Roger Fowler and even a 12-yard completion to tight end Todd Link, but it wasn't enough to overcome the first and 25 yards to go situation.

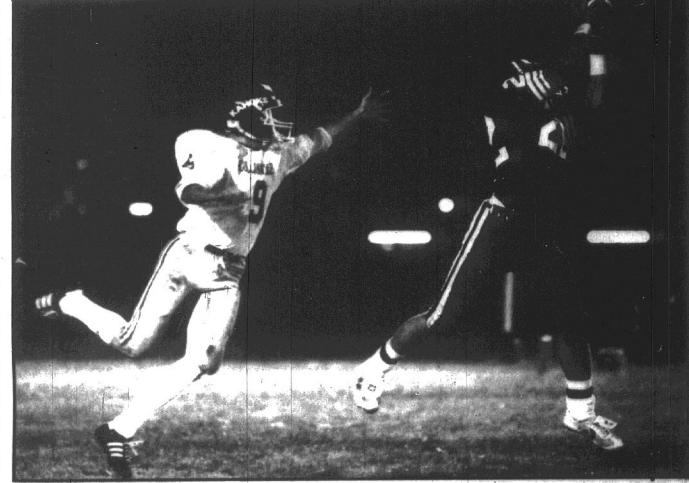

The Kahoks, however, were not the only ones with problems. On the Warriors' fourth possession, quarterback Shane Cook, attempting to hit split end Tom Adamitis on an out pattern, overthrew Adamitis. Collinsville's Pickering, playing cornerback on defense, picked off the pass and returned it six yards to Collinsville's 28 yard line.

The reason for such a decisive win over the highly rated Blue Devils, Baker said, was Granite City's improved player communication.

Facing a fourth and seven situation, the Warriors gambled on winning. And, the gamble paid off big.

With just 2:32 remaining in the first half, the Warriors' field goal team assembled on the field for what appeared to be a 25 yard field goal attempt by Graves.

After the snap, Sean Wyrostek reared back and threw a strike to an outstretched Rujawitz in the end zone for the touchdown. Graves' PAT split the uprights to give the Warriors a 10-0 lead, the eventual score.

The second half began with Granite City's longest possession of the game. The 12-play 60-yard drive consisted of two first downs and successful running plays by Kindie and a 25-yard pass reception by Adamitis.

A delay of game penalty and a quarterback sack stalled the Warrior drive, which fatefully ended in a missed field goal.

Collinsville's best opportunity to score came in the middle of the fourth quarter when Roy Beckman recovered a Warrior fumble at Granite City's 15 yard line.

After two unproductive downs, Collinsville received its third ineligible receiver penalty as Pickering attempted to pass to Roger Fowler. The penalty effectively took the Kahoks out of the series.

Facing a fourth and 19 situation, Mike Lochman's 41-yard field goal attempt fell short. It was the Kahoks' last possession of the evening and indicative of the Kahoks' efforts.

The simply fell short.

Next week Collinsville faces Belleville West, one of the premier teams in the area. The Warriors are off next week as they prepare for Edwardsville

QUINCY — If Granite City High School soccer coach Gene Baker had any doubt about his team's ability to play with the best teams in the state, those doubts were put to rest Saturday afternoon in Quincy as the Warriors bowled over the frustrated Blue Devils 4-1.

The Warriors, rated the best team in Illinois by the Chicago Sting Newsletter, rolled over Quincy Senior High in dramatic fashion. The high flying Warriors simply outlasted the sixth rated Blue Devils.

"We're real happy with the win," Baker began after the game. "It's a good win against a fine soccer team. The reason for such a decisive win over the highly rated Blue Devils, Baker said, was Granite City's improved player communication."

"This has to be the best that the guys have talked to one another thus far. If they're talking then we're passing well," Baker said. "It was our best team effort so far."

It was indeed a team effort on Granite City's part. In all, Baker utilized 25 players including three goalies. In all, including the jayvee game which Quincy won 1-0, 42 Warrior athletes saw action.

Baker praised nearly every team member after the game, but gave special praise to Mike Sikora, Mike Houston, Derek Merz and Brent Cook, the Warriors' little powerhouse.

"Mike (Sikora) really has been coming on strong for us lately. As for Houston," Baker continued, "he played his best game of the season out there today."

Baker praised Merz for his continued growth as a soccer player. It was Merz and fellow teammate Sam Tate who found unity within unity. The two former Granite City Steelers combined to score Granite City's third goal.

But Baker saved the real praise for Cook, whose mid-field throw-ins gave him two assists. Cook who is one of the smallest players on the Warrior squad, has to be the best high school throw-in soccer player to come along in some time. His throw-ins, which consistently reach mid-field, are every bit as beautiful, picture-perfect

"Brent is being throwing the ball really well for us. I feel like I can really comment on him because I'm always on him about something," Baker said jokingly. "Seriously, he's a fine competitor. And the best thing about him is that he's only a junior."

The game was by all stretches of the word physical. In all, there were 35 fouls, one ejection and one yellow card.

The Warriors were called 23 times for penalties while the Blue Devils were tagged for 12. The ejection and the yellow card, each given to Quincy, came in the waning minutes of the game as the Blue Devils' frustration turned into outright physical aggression.

As a result, Quincy's Bob Tipton was ejected and Darren Mueller received a yellow card.

By that time the Warrior already had the game neatly tucked away.

The Warriors got on the board first in the second quarter (28:46) as Paul Macios slapped Scottie Blason's pass past Quincy's Darin Reinberg for the score. It was Cook's throw-in to Blason which set up the score.

Three minutes later, almost to the second, Granite City made it 2-0 as team captain Nathan Crane headed Cook's sideline throw-in for the score.

That's the way the first half ended. Just slightly more than midway through the third period, was when Merz and Tate teamed for Granite City's third goal. The goal came just after Quincy cleared a Granite City corner kick.

Tate, setting up another shot just after the corner kick, put the ball up for

Stars dominate, but score once against Lincoln

By ROGER KRAMER

of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Scores can be deceptive. The score of Granite City Center's victory over Lincoln College of Lincoln, Ill., 1-0, was a deceptive score. Although the Stars could manage only one goal against Lincoln College Saturday, it wasn't from a lack of trying. GCC took 20 shots on goal compared to Lincoln's five. For the most part, the Stars kept the ball on the attacking half of the field.

"We had a lot of golden opportunities," GCC Coach Larry Petri said. "We should score when we have the golden opportunities. I thought we could have had anywhere from one to five goals. It's just one of those games where we weren't meant to score much."

John Reininger, a sophomore midfielder from Caseyville, scored the only goal of the game at 15:00. Tim Dean, a freshman forward from Granite City North, was five yards from the left corner of the goal, but since he was guarded heavily, he made a cross pass to the center of the penalty zone. Reininger had a straight shot at the goal and easily scored.

From that point on, the Stars continued to give Lincoln goalkeeper Jeff Suss a workout. Suss picked up 12 saves for the game. The Stars' shots either went right to Suss or just outside or over the goal bars.

"This game was very tough to get up for after losing a tough game to Meramec. We started sluggishly, but I thought after we scored the goal, we would keep right on going. We kept on shooting, but we couldn't get the ball in the goal," Petri said.

Traditionally, Lincoln College has not been much of a challenge for the Belleville Area College, now Granite City Center, team. Petri used the opportunity to try some new things offensively and give his reserves more playing time.

"There have some players who weren't getting any playing time, and it gives them a try to get some experience. We tried some different offensive strategy, and it was working except that we couldn't finish it," Petri said.

"Maybe we had fewer goals than we would have had," he said. "We were getting the shots, but we weren't getting the ball in the goal. I think we were down from the Meramec game and we had to play better. We're much better now than we were at the start of the season though."

Besides scoring the goal, Reininger played excellent game offensively and defensively. Petri also credited Jim Doyle, a freshman forward from St. Louis, for keeping outside link Joe Aron in check for the game.

While the game wasn't a conference game, it was still an important one for the Stars. GCC, Lincoln College, Lincoln Land Community College of Springfield and Lewis and Clark Community College of Godfrey are all in the Region 24 playoffs, the first step towards the National Junior College Athletic Association title.

This year's Region 24 tournament will be held Nov. 3-6.

Wins over Lincoln College and Lincoln Land would probably give GCC a second place seed in the tournament behind Lewis and Clark, the runner-up in the NJCAA finals last season.

"It's important for us to beat Lincoln and Lincoln Land so we have a chance to host one or two games in the finals," Petri said. "If there's a tie, I believe the team with the most goals gets the higher seed. We've got to beat those teams."

GCC plays Lincoln Land at 3 p.m. Wednesday at the GCC field.

At SIUE

Fernandez, Trittschuh lead their teams to victory

By AL BARNES

for the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — Two native sons of Granite City stood out brilliantly here Sunday afternoon on the soccer pitch at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville in a pair of collegiate games matching two eleven from Texas and two from the St. Louis Metropolitan area.

In the first game, the resurgent Bills of St. Louis University won their eighth straight victory with a 3-1 win over the Mustangs of Southern Methodist U., while in the nightcap, the host Cougars of Southern Illinois U. slipped by a bitterly fighting Mean Green team from North Texas State U., 1-0.

In the Bills' victory over SMU, it was Granite City's Dave Fernandez who broke a scoreless tie at 23:16 on a beautiful, picture-perfect play off of a corner kick to open the point making.

In the Cougars' 1-0 victory over North Texas, it was Granite City's Steve Trittschuh, who scored the second game's only point off of a corner kick from Bruce Belinger shortly (at 40:17) before the first half ended.

The victory, believe it or not, just brought the Cougars up to an even-up 2-2 record in many of the last 10 years for a Coach Bob Guetker eleven at SIUE.

The Bills' 8-0 record equals their best start (1979) in four years and, no doubt, will very probably up their national ranking to the top five.

And with the Cougars only able to tie the Southern Methodist 1-1 Friday at the new sports complex in Fenton, and being just able to squeeze by North Texas, Merz, Merz's leap was timed to perfection. Reinberg leaped but not in time for the save.

Quincy avoided the shutout within the final minute of the third quarter as Dev Reeves pushed a shot past Warrior goalie Job Blasina. The goal, which resulted off Andy Hogge's corner kick, came at 59:32.

The final goal of the game came as Houston, after taking Macios' pass, beat Reinberg on a one-on-one situation at the Quincy goal mouth. The score came at 72:45.

The victory should guarantee Granite City a top rating in the Sting polls as well as area polls. Just last week, Quincy, defeated nearby rival Collinsville 1-0 in a hard-fought game.

Granite City takes to the field this evening as they host Gateway East Conference rival Cahokia. The victory improves the Warriors' record to 7-4-1. In action on Thursday, the Warriors picked up their sixth win of the season as they defeated Belleville West 4-0.

Warriors get two seconds in E'ville Invitational

By MICHAEL BARTELS
of the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — The Granite City High cross country team got several second place finishes in the Edwardsville Invitational Saturday. Second are not firsts, but with the high caliber competition, Warrior Coach Pete Robinson was happy just the same.

Twenty-one teams traveled to the cross country course at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, one of the most beautiful courses in the Midwest. The Warriors proved Saturday that they are a power to be reckoned with as both the girls' and the boys' teams picked up runners-up distinctions as well as both number one runners.

The closest team race was in the girls' division. While Lora Wiser finished the two-mile course in 15:26, only 10 seconds behind pace setter Pam Quarangi of Collinsville, her team lost a fight one in the race for the championship against East St. Louis Lincoln.

The Warrior girls finished only four points behind the winners, 49-73. It was the second time in a week that East St. Louis had edged the Warrior harriers. Last week at the Belleville West Invitational, the girls finished second to Lincoln, 9-12, featuring several finishes decided by a sprint.

In the boys' division, Hazelwood Central seemed to meet with little competition as six of its runners finished in the top 15. Granite City's Jim Robertson finished second behind John Burnett of Belleville West. In the seven days before the Edwardsville meet, Robertson had defeated Burnett twice.

"At about the two-mile mark, I thought I had it won," Robertson said. Robertson, Burnett, and Hazelwood Central's Mark Colvis were bunched together about a mile remaining when the Warrior harrier started pulling ing away from the Hazelwood runner.

"Then Burnett moved up and won. The last half-mile he just took off," Robertson said.

As a team, the Warriors demonstrated well the concept of pack running in team cross country racing. "The closer you can keep them together in a pack, the better you will do," Robinson said. "We almost had a classic example of that today." Granite City's Todd Isom, Darren Bernaix, Jeff Hoese and Keith Bono all finished within a total of three places of each other.

Hazelwood Central dominated the meet, scoring a team total of only 25 points. Granite City took runners up honors with 91 points.

The course at Edwardsville has been changed since last year to rid it of some of the "suicide" hills it has been known for in the past. Even so, the course is still hilly and Robertson didn't think that matter much in his team's performance.

"It's all together a different ball game," he said. "But I always thought we handled hills as well as anyone." Indeed they did. The boys finished ahead of 10 other schools and girls beat 14. The Granite City Warriors continue to improve as a cross country team and Robinson is glad to see the kids working.

"I think we've made some pretty good improvement in two weeks," he said. "The attitude's just great. I think they're starting to believe they can do something."

The ultimate test will come on the very course they competed on Saturday. SIUE will host the state district and Robinson thinks his team will be ready to face the stiffest competition in the area: East St. Louis Sr. High School.

"I think we can run with them," Robinson said. "But what's more important is I think the kids think they can run with them."

At Belleville West last week, the Warriors girls team finished second in a battle with East St. Louis Lincoln. Lora Wiser finished second in her meet with a time of 15:01 and Michelle Shoemaker took the second flight with a time of 13:20.

In the third flight, Sheila Noel finished second in 13:43 and Angie Grabowski finished second in the fourth flight with a time of 14:11.

In the fifth race Julie Hoffman took third with a time of 15:12 and in the sixth race, Connie Williamson took a second with a time of 15:19. Dawn Young finished second in the flight seven race with a time of 15:39.

TEAM TAKES PAIR

Last Monday at Granite City High School both the boys' and girls' cross country teams were victorious in quadrangular and triangular meets.

The Warrior boys won their meet with 34 points. Alton finished second with 34 points and Belleville West took third with 74 points.

Granite City's girls clipped Belleville West, 32-35, and Edwardsville finished third with 60 points.

Robertson took first in the boys' division, winning the race in 14:27, two seconds ahead of Alton's Norman Blahney. Robertson has cut 1:10 off of his time since the beginning of the season.

Other Granite City finishers included Todd Isom, sixth with 15:34. Keith

THE PACK. The Granite City Warrior cross country team has been enjoying more than a little success of late and the philosophy of running in a "pack" is responsible for much of that success. Pictured above is "the pack" for the Bono, eighth with 15:48, Darren Bernaix, ninth with 15:51, Jeff Hoese, 10th with 15:57, Charlie Porter, 13th with 16:35, and Todd Scrum, 16th with 16:17. Wiser again was the top runner for the Warriors' girls finishing second to Belleville West's Tammy Dill in the girls' division. Wiser finished in 12:21, ten seconds behind Dill. Shoemaker was fourth for the Warriors with 13:10; Noel was fifth with 13:37; Hoffman was eighth with 14:11; Grabowski was 13th with 15:46; Williamson was 14th with 14:39 and Dawn Young was 15th with 14:55.

Friday Night

Trojans lose, but fans find a renewed interest

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

MADISON — Even though the Madison Trojans lost to East St. Louis Assumption 28-24 Friday in the first football night game in Madison in years, Trojan Coach Don Smith found many reasons to be excited.

"The Trojans may have found a few more fans, thanks to the effort with Assumption. Many fans who did not see the Trojans in action on Saturday came to see the Friday night battle, and they liked what they saw."

"We had a pretty big turnout for the game, and some of the people thought they were going to see the same old thing. Assumption wiped us out," Smith said. "I think the Madison fans saw that we're not quitters and that we can play exciting ball."

"I had people come to me after the game and tell me we did a good job. They said 'we haven't been to a Madison game,' but they said they liked what they saw and that they will be back next week," Smith said.

Although the increased interest in the Trojans excited Smith, the way the Trojans played against Assumption excited him more. The only thing that disappointed Smith and the Trojans was the fact they lost.

"We're starting to gel as a team. It's been a long time since a Madison team has had the attitude of this team. We were able to come back from behind and almost win, and we were in shape and ready to play in the fourth quarter," Smith said.

"Attitude is one of the things we've been trying to instill this year, and attitude helps you come back in the big games. They hustled hard, and it showed in the fourth quarter. While Assumption was getting cramps, we were still hustling to the line. I'm really proud of our boys," Smith said.

The Trojans came back twice against Assumption, a team that has constantly given the Trojans fits over the years. Last season, Assumption defeated Madison 29-0 and later advanced to the Class 2A semifinals. The Trojans couldn't comeback at third time.

Assumption's quarterback like Billups completed a 58-yard touchdown pass to tight end Antonio Liddell for the first touchdown of the game with 7:16 left in the first quarter.

On the next series, Madison got the ball to the Assumption 35-yard line, but Madison's Pat Wilson had to punt the ball to the Trojans' 10-yard line. Madison's defensive tackle Leroy Latham recovered a fumble at Assumption's seven yard line to set up Madison's first touchdown.

Avery Blockton ran up the middle for the touchdown from three yards out. Madison quarterback Victor Valentine passed to Blander Crockwell for the two-point conversion and a 8-7 lead. Just as Assumption needed a big play to score in the first quarter, the Pioneers needed two big plays in the second quarter to take a 21-8 halftime lead. Assumption only had four first downs in the first half. Three of those were touchdowns.

On the first play of the second quarter, Larry Stricklin squirmed his way through the arms of Madison defenders and scored on a 58-yard touchdown run.

Madison moved the ball down to the Pioneers' 35-yard line again, but this time the Trojans fumbled a touchdown away. Assumption's John Dozier took the fumble recovery 62 yards for the Pioneers' second touchdown.

Despite being behind by 13 points, the Trojans kept on doing what they did from the very beginning. Running up the middle.

Running backs Blockton and Shawn Brown ran the ball up the middle nearly all night with great success. Blockton ran for 98 yards, and Brown ran for 81 yards. Kelly Scrum, an all-conference back last year, played very little because of a rib injury suffered against Freeburg.

It was only a matter of time for the middle to give. Madison used that magic formula in the first series of the second half and scored. In addition to the running plays, two field goals and penalties by the Pioneers started kept the drive moving. With 5:50 left in the third quarter, Valentine faked a handoff up the middle and swept to his left for a seven-yard touchdown. Valentine ran the conversion.

About a minute later, Daryl McCormick recovered another Assumption fumble on the Pioneers' 40-yard line. Ten plays later, Scrum ran around left end and scored from two yards out, and Blockton ran the conversion to give the Trojans a 24-21 lead.

Assumption needed its longest drive of the game to conquer the Trojans. The Pioneers took the ball 60 yards on 13 plays in the fourth quarter, but once the Pioneers got the ball on the Trojans' 10-yard line, they needed all four downs to score.

Assumption fullback Jimmy Collins was held to runs of two, four, and minus-one yards on first, second and third downs. Madison expected fourth down to go to Stricklin. Instead, Billups faked the handoff, swept left and scored untouched. David Franco's extra point closed the scoring.

Although the Trojans recovered another fumble on Assumption's 37, they could not take advantage of the Pioneers' gift, and they ran the game out. Nevertheless, Assumption Coach Jim Monken was impressed by the Trojans.

"Madison's got a lot of talent. I think they're a sleeping giant," Monken said. "They're the one team that's good in the area we're good in, speed, year after year. They're always tough, and I'm glad to see Madison come around."

"It looks like they have a good football team. They lost their first three, but they'll win some games this year," Monken said.

Smith is also convinced Madison can win some more. "I think we can finish the season 5-3. If we get all the breaks and we continue to play like we did against Assumption, we could win all five of them. We have to play with the same amount of teamwork we did tonight," Smith said.

Stars spikers begin season with wins

By PAULA WISE
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City Stars volleyball team got their season off to good start last week with two impressive wins.

Wednesday, the Stars opened their season with a 15-2, 9-15, 15-9 win over Lutheran Medical Center.

Thursday, the Stars met with tougher competition when they faced St. Louis Christian College.

In the first game, St. Louis Christian pulled to a 8-1 lead before the Stars, Laura Harper, served nine straight points to put her team on top 10-8.

The lead changed sides several times, but St. Louis Christian went on to win the first game 16-14.

Strong serving by Ruth Jacks and Harper led the way for the Stars in the second game.

Harper stalked her team to a 3-0 lead before St. Louis Christian came back to tie the score at 3-3.

Then, eight unanswered points by St.

Louis Christian gave them a 12-5 lead. The Stars were definitely in trouble, but they refused to give up.

The Stars came back to score six points to St. Louis's one to bring the score to 15-11.

Jack's then had four serves for points to give the Stars the victory 15-13.

Game three started with team captain, Phyllis Shipp, serving up three points for her team. After that the Stars never looked back and went on to win 15-9.

In the fourth game of the match, Granite City Center lost their momentum to what appeared to be on their side.

Tammy Perkins and Shari Newland, of St. Louis Christian, each served four straight points to pace their team to a 15-3 victory.

Game five was the most exciting game of the match. Jack's nine straight serves brought her team back from an 8-4 deficit and put them into the lead 13-8.

St. Louis Christian tried to rally, but it was too late as the Stars went on to win 12-5.

Coach Clabbe Briggs was pleased with her team's performance.

"The girls played much better tonight."

"We have been working hard in practice on our serving, and tonight it was much better," stated Briggs.

The only trouble the Stars had was that they played too much defense. In the fourth and fifth games they kept falling back to play defense and could not get their offense running smoothly.

"The girls wanted to win so badly, they were really pressing on offense," Coach Briggs stated.

"In the last game they were not staying in their positions. I called a time out and that seemed to settle them down."

These wins put the Star's record at 2-0.

Wednesday, the Stars will meet Lutheran Medical Center in a 6:00 home game.

To err, error is human...

By AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

To err is human, but I guess I've abused the fact just a wee bit lately in one or more of my columns.

Most of the gaffs are caused by the fact that more than one member of a family has left us with a history of brilliance in their sports.

So, I'd like to take this opportunity to say "I'm sorry" to the widow of Ed Hagnauer, Flo. Ed and his brother, Nellie, both were stand-out baseball pitchers.

And, in my recent article of the 1932 Sacred Heart Catholic Church baseball team, I mistakenly gave Nellie credit for being a starting pitcher in a key game when, in fact, it was his brother Ed. I'm sorry about that.

In this same opus, I misspelled the name of Dan Cusanelli. My original notes, mysteriously, looked like Maury. Don't ask me how, I don't know. Incidentally, I was told that Cusanelli knew the whereabouts of the many athletic trophies won by Sacred Heart sports teams down through the years.

And, which sadly disappeared after the death of Monsignor Michael Costello.

What a dirty shame...there was so much glorious athletic history in back of those trophies. And, again makes me urge that a campaign be started to gather together and store in one central building...

With a Quad-City Museum, all these stirring memories.

With a Quad-City Museum, a start could be made on establishing a Hall of Fame for athletic figures, both men and women, in this area.

For example, who would you nominate for the Top Five Athletes ever produced in this section of southwestern Illinois?

Sports buff Frank Szediar offers this quintet for your consideration:

Len Davis, Pat Rich, Claude Beeler, Steve Gallauer and Kenneth (Spike) Wilson.

What are yours?

In researching the Gallauer feature story, it was evident that the people of the Quad-City area need to take action to gather together and obtain a place to display, records and pictures of former athletic teams and individuals at Granite City, Madison and Venice High schools.

I would like to thank former Granite City High's track team coach, Donny Miller, for his help in writing the Gallauer feature and for the work in collecting records during the ten years he headed up track and field.

The next time you are out at the Granite City High school basketball gym, let your eyes look up to see the beautifully mounted photos of the various event holders in excess of 10.

A great job, Donny.

Warrior spikers win

The Granite City Warrior volleyball team improved their record to 3-2 Thursday with an impressive 15-10, 15-4, win over the Redwings of Alton.

Vicki Smith powered the Warriors to their first game win serving 15 straight points, including five aces serves. The Warriors never rotated from their starting positions.

In the second game Coach Wilma Schuchowicz switched the team's front and back lines to allow the back row players to get some work at the net. Again, good serving seemed to be the key to victory, as the Warriors went on to win 15-4.

The Warrior junior varsity also posted a victory 15-0, 15-1.

Illini games are sold out

CHAMPAIGN — Every ticket to every University of Illinois home football game this fall has been sold, announced Illini Director of Athletics Neale Stoner.

For the first time in school history, a capacity crowd of 70,564 will witness each of Illinois' five home games in Memorial Stadium.

"We are extremely proud to be able to make such an announcement," said Stoner. "Our state-wide support has been tremendous, and we sincerely appreciate everyone's backing and confidence in our efforts to field a team which we all can be proud of."

Prior to this season there were just 26 sellout crowds in the 66-year history of the Stadium.

BPW club hears banking officer

Dan Kussart, vice president of the First Illinois Bank of East St. Louis, reviewed changes in banking procedures and attitudes for members of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club at their meeting at Bill Burns Cafeteria.

Also addressing the group was Annellen Smith, immediate past president of the Illinois Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, who discussed the Congress of the International BPW Federation convention, which she attended in Washington, D.C.

Kussart, who was introduced by Ollie Derr, finance co-chairman, said women bankers now are more prevalent in the industry and a key function is to help people better manage their money. "Not only have women come a long way from 1880, but so have banks," he said.

Bankers no longer keep "banker's hours," but usually operate from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. or 7 p.m. and wage scales also have been updated, he said.

Bank structures also have altered considerably. Banks no longer are constructed along the "Greek Temple" design, but are now very modern and decorative inside, with drive-in and mini-banks conveniently situated outside the downtown areas.

Loans and savings plans to meet everyone's needs, plus many other services, are offered, including individual Retirement Accounts (IRA) and various charge card accounts.

Kussart urged women to continue to further their education, keep up their present skills and advance to other skills, noting that banking is a great field for women to enter. "There still are changes to come both for women and in the banking area," the speaker commented.

women, regardless of nationality or ability to speak English.

A consensus evolved from the delegates that "women and men must work together to make a better working world," she said.

She related the incident and subsequent disappointment of a group of delegates arriving for a prearranged tour of the White House only to find the tour and visit with the President had been cancelled without notice.

President Ronald Reagan addressed the convention delegates the following day and received a warm welcome, Miss Smith said.

However, his comment that "he had always been for women, in fact if it wasn't for women, men would still be wearing skirts and carrying a stick," was greeted with silence, the former BPW state president told the club.

Many of the group felt that women had earned the right to their equal place in life and, if given the opportunity, would prove it, Miss Smith added. She urged all women to go to the polls at election time and exercise their right to vote.

Renewable energy funding law signed

A new law provides a method to finance development of renewable energy sources and promotes the use of Illinois coal.

Several types of energy equipment and facilities will be included in the definition of environmental facilities in the state Environmental Facilities Financing Act.

Listed under that definition will be solar energy collectors, solar storage mechanisms and solar energy systems, as well as thermal recycling facilities, projects designed to remove pollutants from coal combustion emissions, and facilities for combustion of coal in a fluidized bed boiler.

Those energy facilities will now be eligible to receive construction funds from bonds sold by the Environmental Facilities Financing Authority, clearing the way for expansion and development of those systems and increasing the number of facilities that can use high-sulphur Illinois coal.

Accelerate road repair in Illinois

Illinois has secured nearly $19 million more in federal funds for highway repair and construction this year. This was the largest share gained by any state out of the nationwide pool of funds newly made available.

Illinois gained 30 percent more than the next highest state, Virginia. "We are putting the money to work immediately to repair and rehabilitate our roads," Gov. James R. Thompson said.

"The Illinois Department of Transportation is soliciting bids on highway repairs and improvements totaling $85 million, with many of the categories of the federal projects being funded with the additional money. The bids on the work will be opened Sept. 30.

"We will continue to aggressively pursue ways to assure that Illinois gets its fair share of federal funds. I thank Senator Charles Percy and Congressman Bob Michel for the work they did toward securing the additional highway dollars.

"With their cooperative efforts, we were able to secure $18.9 million. We have the needed matching funds from the increase in our state motor fuel tax and were recognized for moving rapidly to make repairs and rehabilitate our roads."

After Aug. 1 each year, the federal government makes an assessment on the states' use of federal funds and then an individual state's spending authority is adjusted.

Where states cannot obligate funds toward federally-aided highway projects, the spending authority is redistributed to other states that demonstrate their ability to get the federally-eligible projects underway.

Currently, Illinois is receiving more than $753 million in federal highway funds — the largest amount in the state's history. The additional nearly $19 million boosts that to $772 million.

Motor vehicle committee post to Vadalabene

Senator Sam M. Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville) has been re-elected vice chairman of the Illinois Motor Vehicle Laws Commission for the 83rd General Assembly. This commission has been very active in recent sessions and was the catalyst in the movement to improve the Illinois law to more readily identify and remove the impaired driver from our streets and highways.

"Senator Sam" is one of the senior members of this commission and serves with two other commission members from the area: Rep. Sam Wolf (D-Granite City) and Rep. Monroe Flinn (D-Chicago).

The Motor Vehicle Laws Commission holds public meetings to provide a forum for public input and suggestions and subsequently makes recommendations to the legislature for new or amendatory legislation to facilitate the safe and expeditious movement of traffic throughout our state highway transportation system.

Allege cannabis seeds in vehicle

Three juveniles and a 19-year-old man were arrested early last week at West 20th Street and Rock Road when the driver of the vehicle, a youth, 16, from Jaden, Mo., allegedly drove through a red light. Reports alleged that a pan containing cannabis seeds was on the floor of the auto and the occupants also had a container of vodka and orange juice.

The driver was charged with illegal possession of cannabis, and curfew and stoplight violations. He was released at 2:30 a.m. Sunday after posting a $56 cash bond.

Charles L. Lowry, 19, of 2134 Ohio Ave., a passenger, was charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor. He was released after paying a $52 cash bond.

A girl and another youth, both from Granite City and 16 years old, were booked for curfew violations and were released upon posting $52 cash bonds.

VFW Auxiliary aids United Way

Approval was granted by the members of VFW Auxiliary, Post 1390, to send a donation to the Tri-City United Way campaign, during its September meeting held at the VFW Hall.

President Shirley Brewer opened the meeting at 7:30 p.m. and the opening prayer was offered by Chaplain Frances Aldridge.

During the session two former members, Lucille Pierce and Elsie Staggs, were welcomed back to the organization.

In other business the members agreed to send a donation to the National Home Scholarship and flowers to three auxiliary members who are in the hospital.

Closing prayer was given by Mrs. Aldridge and the next meeting is set for Oct. 7, the president noted.

A ways and means meeting was held after the regular meeting at which time the president requested members bring homemade cakes for the game night event each Tuesday and to assist in the kitchen. They also finalized plans for a rummage sale scheduled for Oct. 8 and discussed October events to include a barbecue and fish fry. Final dates for the fund raising projects will be announced at a later meeting, the president said.

Eagles Auxiliary hosts District 8 meeting

The local Eagles Auxiliary hosted the District 8 meeting, last week, at the Eagles Aerie, 2800 Madison Ave., attended by 65 members from Wood River, Alton; Collinsville, Shiloh, Jerseyville and Granite City.

During the event an initiation of candidates was held for 11 new members including those from Granite City, Tina Warden, Juanita Crawley, Joyce Best and Ellen Fronbarger.

Among the guests were three state auxiliary officers who conducted a question and answer session. Present for the discussion were Evelyn Dupont of Shilo, Evelyn Sweeney, Wood River, both past state auxiliary presidents, Kathy Dulles, Shilo, state trustee, and Carol Hill, district mother from Granite City. Each was presented with a special gift.

Mrs. Gladys Freeman, local auxiliary president, opened the meeting followed by the reading of the minutes of the previous district meeting and a financial statement.

The district chairman introduced the outstanding district state ritual members who performed ritual work and Mrs. Freeman gave each one a gift.

Nomination, election and installation of new district officers for the forthcoming year was conducted during the session. Mrs. June Fritz and Mrs. Freeman of the local auxiliary were elected trustees. Angie Buehler, a Granite City member who was named outstanding state district conductor, served as the installing officer.

A buffet luncheon was served to guests and members at tables decorated in autumn color arrangements with a large centerpiece of silk flowers on the main table.

"How to Select a Good Plant" was the subject of a study program presented by Mrs. George Knapp at the September meeting of the Cloverview Garden Club held at Ervay's Restaurant. Mrs. Knapp told the group to get the most for your money, shop for your plant as you would for a car, a coat or camera. Compare costs and above all compare the quality of plants when you buy locally. Avoid any plant in caked soil, a condition that indicates the plant may have been around a while and become weak. Also examine the leaves especially underneath, for insects, ragged brown edges and holes which are always suspect. The presence of insects does not necessarily mean the plant will die, but why pay for diseased plants. Look at the stems too, they should be firm and resilient rather than flabby and limp.

"Touching the stems can sometimes determine the health of the plant. Avoid any plant whose roots are coming out of its container's drainage hole, this means the plant is potbound, and it will take twice as long to recover from repotting than another specimen in better shape," Mrs. Knapp explained.

"Most reputable nurseries tag their plants, but if your new acquisition is not identified, ask for its botanical name. If you don't know what it is, you won't be able to consult a gardening book, should problems develop," she added.

Mrs. B. C. O'Neill, club president, opened the session and the club collect was given by Mrs. Louise Sedlack. During the meeting, Mrs. Raymond Williamson, a former member, was reinstated and a new member, Mrs. Lester Rhine, welcomed.

Mrs. O'Neill announced that on Dec. 2 the District V Standard Flower Show will be held at Signal Hill Lutheran Church, 810 West Main, Belleville. A discussion was held and plans finalized for the club's annual pilgrimage set for Oct. 11 at Cricket Hill Orchard for apple picking and a nature walk.

The club exhibit featured specimens of different varieties of Coleus plants brought by Mrs. John Jenkins, Mrs. Albert Taylor and Mrs. Kenneth Brinkman. A discussion was held and many informative notes were learned about the different species of the Coleus.

Mrs. Robert McCaskey served as hostess and arranged for a dessert luncheon to be served to those named and to Mrs. Clarence Etheridge, Mrs. Charles Gandoria, and Mrs. George Stearns.

The program on "Slate Covered Junco" was given by Mrs. Eldon Melkamp. She explained, "Juncos are often called snow birds and are small slate grey, black and white birds that come to Illinois at the end of September or early October and spend the winter here until time to leave for their nesting grounds in northern pine country."

During their time in this area the small birds fill about in groups and small flocks, glean weed seeds from the roadside and woody thickets, often live in parks or cruise out to nearby feeding stands, and are among our most delightful and abundant winter birds, Mrs. Melkamp said.

Autumn brings the Juncos from their summer homes in Canada. Here they nest and move south as Arctic storms swirl into the cool summer lands. Suddenly Juncos are in Illinois and their snowy white tail feathers flash in flight as they dash from thicket to thicket, the speaker added.

She continued, "When spring comes, the Juncos begin to sing in the warming sunshine of March and early April, they utter small choruses and then suddenly they are gone to the north."

Vadalabene confident coal veto will be overturned

Senator Sam Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville) expressed confidence today that when the Illinois General Assembly reconvenes next month for the Fall Veto Session they will once again support legislation he sponsored to create the "Illinois Coal Technology Assistance Act."

The measure, which was amendatorily vetoed by Governor James Thompson last week, provides for the creation of the "Illinois Coal Technology Assistance Act," which, in short, provides financial support of coal research, demonstration and commercialization activities.

Vadalabene noted that, "in the governor's amendatory veto message, he expressed his support for the project while vetoing the parts of the legislation which he felt were cumbersome and unnecessary. The governor has indicated in his message that his amendatory veto would 'simplify' the bill while still maintaining a strong state role in assisting the development of com-mercially workable technologies for the use of Illinois coal."

Vadalabene stated that the legislation will still provide for state support of the operation of innovative coal projects in Illinois, as well as the Allis-Chalmers Klingbas coal gasification project, at East Alton. At present, the state of Illinois is assisting in the construction of such facilities through the use of state general obligation bonds.

According to Vadalabene, "the acceptance of this legislation will provide a means for increased Illinois coal utilization and will help to improve the economy of Southern Illinois. Making methods become available to enable us to burn Illinois coal in an environmentally safe manner will ultimately mean selling more of our coal, which will also mean more jobs and, thus, an improvement in the economy of Southern Illinois."

Mother finds it is important to understand international issues

By JANET L. ADAMS

Files over the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville with its companions the American flag and the Illinois flag. Yet very few notice or question the existence of the third banner — the official flag of the United Nations. It symbolizes the work of people and nations joined together to bring peace in the world.

One of those concerned people is Marion Pierson, wife of a Presbyterian minister in Granite City, and a graduate of SIUE.

As a matter of fact, Mrs. Pierson was the only graduate in her class with a major in American studies and a minor in peace studies.

Her concern over these issues developed when she traveled to the Mideast in the fall of 1977 and 1978. "People in these countries would come up to me after recognizing I was an American and say, 'Why do Americans act the way they do?'"

"Why do Americans feel everyone should be like them?" she said.

Mrs. Pierson decided to return to school and find out the answers to these questions.

Her interest in peace studies started when her son turned 18. "When he turned 18 he had to register for the draft. It scared me to think my son was on the Pentagon's computer list. I want to find out more about war and peace," she said.

One of her professors directed her to Ron Glossop, professor of philosophy and founder of the Peace Studies program at SIUE.

"I was on the campus for three years before I ever knew there was a Peace Studies program," Mrs. Pierson said.

As a result of her studies, and her concern for her son, Mrs. Pierson formed the Presbyterian Peacemakers Task Force at her church, Nameoki Presbyterian Church in Granite City.

"In this group, we study world issues and look through the eyes of the church to reach peaceful solutions. We want to make more people aware that peace is a solution rather than war," she said.

Mrs. Pierson points out that the Presbyterian church places a great emphasis on education and continuing this education through the church. "I'm very much concerned that more people are not interested in peace studies at SIUE," she said.

"The lack of interest in peace studies reflects the tone of the country that the only thing worthwhile is that which generates money and physical things. Society is saying ideas are not worthwhile to pursue anymore," she added.

According to Professor Glossop, the humanities everywhere are suffering in public universities because they do not teach the marketable skills which are marketable with today's students.

Mrs. Pierson added, "It's a danger to our country."

The main focus in the program at the SIUE campus is to inform the general public about the issues of war and peace. Glossop said, "People do not realize that, on the average, people spend $72 a year on defense, so they have a stake in war," he stated.

Mrs. Pierson added, "War is big business in our country; no one thinks about peaceful solutions."

Currently, the General Studies program at SIUE offers two courses to students wanting a basic understanding of the issue of war and peace. The topics are touched on in the class, "Global Human Survival," and are studied in depth in "Problems of War and Peace."

"However, we encourage students to go beyond these general studies course," Glossop said.

In light of the "nuclear age" and the recent Soviet attack on a Korean airliner, peace studies should be of particular interest to students, Glossop suggested.

"Students in the fields of law, communications, ministry and nursing should be particularly concerned," he said. Mrs. Pierson added, "Anyone who deals with public issues should have knowledge about war and peace."

In the program, students learn about global security, U.S. relations with other countries, and how governments work, in addition to the technical, social and economic costs and benefits of war to society.

A recent article in the Chronicle of Higher Education, by Adele Smith Simmons said, "It is our responsibility to place the issues of war and peace squarely in the center of the academic institution. In this nuclear age, we don't have time to waste."

The Peace Studies program has been available at SIUE for 10 years. Professor Glossop and Mrs. Pierson both hope more people get involved with the program in the years to come.

SIUE has taken a further

Board refuses more deed recording funds

By JIM WOODCOCK

A proposal that would have given the Madison County recorder of deeds office an additional $20,000 was overwhelmingly turned down by the County Board at its meeting last week.

The 20-5 defeat (with four board members absent) means the recorder will be forced to operate with his original 1983 budget allocation.

In a June 17 letter to the county finance committee, Recorder Ronald Lucas said an additional $19,947 was needed if his office is to continue operations at its current level of service.

The finance committee turned down his request and so did the board when Charles Burns, Edwardsville, made the proposal to give the office additional operating capital from the county's contingency fund.

Burns said Lucas did not encourage him to make the proposal to the board.

"I've been prompted by financial institutions and the Board of Realtors to make this proposal," Burns said. "The office cannot live within the budget it was given."

After the finance committee turned down Lucas' request, the recorder of deeds laid off four of his 10 employees in an attempt to live within the budget which was $208,994 for the 1983 fiscal year ending this Nov. 30.

According to Burns, the layoffs have resulted in misplaced files, indexing problems, and other problems that have meant delays for county residents using recorder of deeds services.

In addition, Burns said, a $67,000 computer in the office has hardly been used. "The fee payers in the county aren't getting their money's worth," Burns said.

Led by finance committee members, the board said Burns would give special help to one of a number of county departments faced with budget problems.

Finance committee member Alan Dunstan, Troy, said, "Last year at budget time there was a resolution for more money, and it was denied. I don't see why we should treat anyone differently."

Dunstan also said the county board and the finance committee should not be held responsible for budget problems the recorder's office has incurred.

"I don't think he (Lucas) looked at his budget one bit," Dunstan said. "He could have laid off only one person off at the beginning of the year, and he wouldn't have this problem."

County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer agreed with Dunstan. "It's been a crunch year, and it's just been one of those things that's happened."

"But it would not be fair to the sheriff's department, or to our other county departments, to add money to one budget."

County Assistant State's Attorney Marshall "Zeke" Smith said he would rather see the recorder's office look at how other counties operate within a budget, possibly with help coming from the county's data processing department, rather than simply asking for more money.

"It may be a three-month process, and it's a monkey-see, monkey-do operation," Smith said. "But we ought to at least have a look at it."

Lucas, who was not present at the board meeting, admitted that "like anything else, the board doesn't have money to go around—it just isn't there."

However, Lucas took exception to statements suggesting that he failed to prepare properly for fiscal 1983 with the budget he was given in December.

"I do look at my budget, and I can say that I work harder now than I did a year ago," Lucas said.

"The trouble is that some, not all, county board members don't know what's going on as far as how the office operates."

"They can't make justifiable statements as far as my office's budget is concerned," Lucas said.

Lucas said that, for now, his staff will concentrate its efforts on processing documents that have been held back due to office layoffs.

"What we'll be doing is shifting all of our office operations to one end of the office as much as we need to," Lucas said.

Due to dwindling county revenues, the 1983 general fund budget is approximately $2 million less than the 1982 general fund. All general fund departments, including the recorder of deeds received cuts in fiscal 1983.

TWO WOMEN ARE NAVY ENLISTEES

Miss Marie Hubbard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hubbard of Granite City, and Mary Barnett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Barnett of Granite City, recently enlisted in the Navy's Delayed Entry Program.

The enlistment ceremony took place at the St. Louis Military Enlistment Processing Station.

Mary is a 1983 graduate of St. Mary's Academy in Nayvoo, Ill., and enlisted for training as a naval radio operator.

Miss Hubbard, a 1981 graduate of Granite City High School South, is presently attending basic training at Orlando, Fla. to be followed by skill training in the naval aviation field at Memphis, Tennessee.

The Delayed Enlistment Program gives a person up to one year before he or she reports for active duty. The enlistee earns seniority towards higher pay while finishing school, concluding personal business or taking a vacation.

I-255 suit to be heard tomorrow

By JUDY TAPLIN

A hearing is set Tuesday on a temporary injunction sought by a group to stop construction of 5.5 miles of Interstate 255.

The hearing will occur just four days before the Illinois Department of Transportation receives bids for work on a half-mile section of the disputed highway.

Harry Sterling, the Fairview Heights attorney representing Save American Bottoms' Essential Resources, the protest group, said a motion by IDOT to dismiss the lawsuit will be considered Tuesday along with the opponent's request for a temporary injunction.

The hearing, scheduled for 9:30 a.m., will be held in the federal district court building in Benton.

Rep. Sam Wolf said the bids to be received Sept. 30 are for 48 miles of grading, sand drains and drainage structures for future ramps and roadways on I-255 north from I-55-70.

Estimated cost of the work in that half mile is $5.5 million.

SABER filed its suit in federal court in May in an attempt to stop land acquisition for the 5.5-mile stretch of Interstate from Collinsville to Glen Carbon.

In August, IDOT filed its motion to dismiss the lawsuit.

I-255 opponents advocate widening and improvement of several other highways as an alternate to building the Interstate.

They claim 500 acres of prime farm land will be lost to the highway. IDOT says only 90 acres of prime farm land will be involved.

Labor and business groups have supported the construction, and so have many area municipalities. But SABER has not been without its own supporters.

Thomas Burns to receive 33rd degree in Milwaukee

Leading Freemasons of the United States, Canada, Europe, and Latin America are meeting in Milwaukee Sept. 23 to 29 for the annual session of the Supreme Council of Scottish Rite Freemasonry for the Northern Jurisdiction. A total attendance of 2,300 Thirty-third Degree Masons and wives is expected from the 15 northeastern and midwestern states making up the 490,000-member Northern Jurisdiction.

The Thirty-third Degree, highest honor of Scottish Rite Masonry, will be awarded on Wednesday, Sept. 28, to 164 members of the fraternity coming from the 15 states and selected by the Supreme Council because of "outstanding contributions to Freemasonry or for significant service to others reflecting credit on the fraternity." Among them is Thomas A. Burns of Granite City.

Executive and general sessions are scheduled throughout the week at Milwaukee's Mar Plaza Hotel and Uihlein Hall of the Performing Arts Center. In addition to the Mar Plaza, which will serve as convention headquarters, several state delegations will be housed at the Hyatt Regency, the Pfister Hotel and Tower, the Milwaukee Athletic Club, Howard Johnsons downtown, and the Ramada Inn downtown.

Included among discussion topics will be the status of Scottish Rite's 49 year program of basic research into the underlying cause of schizophrenia and also the progress made by the Scottish Rite Masonic Museum of Our National Heritage in Lexington, Mass., constructed a decade ago and operated by the fraternity as a lasting Masonic tribute to the nation's bicentennial.

Entertainment and social events will be sponsored by the Supreme Council and participating state and local groups throughout the week. Announcement of the names of those elected to receive the Thirty-third Degree at Boston in 1984 will conclude the meeting on Sept. 29.

Five charges against cyclist

Larry G. Murphy Jr., 21, of 1332 Edwardsville Road, was arrested during the past week on Route 162 and State Aid 35 and charged with driving under the influence of alcohol, speeding (80 mph in a 45 mph zone) and riding a motorcycle without special equipment.

Additionally, he was charged with criminal damage to property and disorderly conduct.

Officers were called to Murphy's home and were told by a relative that Murphy had caused problems there and "tore up the house." It was alleged that he had ripped paneling off the wall, broke a table and threatened the occupants before leaving.

When police arrived at the residence, a motorcycle was leaving the driveway and officers followed the machine north on Edwardsville Road, catching up and arresting Murphy only when traffic forced the cyclist to slow down, reports said.

DANCER PICKED.

Sandra Lee Edwards, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Edwards, 2916 Sunset Drive, has been chosen as one of the 40 St. Louis Steam Heat Dancers, who perform for the St. Louis Steamer's soccer team before and after games as well as doing some halftime routines. The squad also performs at other functions such as the Six Flags Western Festival and at the Fox Theater later this year.

Sandra is a 1982 graduate of Granite City High School South and was on the school's Dixie Dolls Pom Squad for three years, serving as captain her senior year. She also is a former member of the SUE Cougars Stars squad. She now attends Belleville Area College and is employed at Piz-za Hut here.

Ware was charged in connection with a burglary at the Red Fox Grocery store, 420 Broadway, Venice, reported last week. NEIGHBORHOOD INFORMATION ON BURGLARY.

Free tenants' rights seminar set Sept. 30

The Land of Lincoln Legal Assistance Foundation will sponsor a free seminar on public housing and utilities from 9 a.m. until noon Friday, Sept. 30, at the Venice Recreation Center, 323 Broadway, Venice.

Residents of public housing in Granite City, Madison, Venice and the surrounding communities are being invited to attend the seminar, according to Clarence Sadtler of Venice, vice president of the foundation's advisory board.

Lester Campbell of Venice also is a member of the foundation advisory board, which is headed by Hal Calhoun of Alton as president.

Problems to be addressed at the seminar include:

Evictions, repairs, grievance procedures and utility shut-offs, Sadtler said.

An appeal to the Venice City Council for help was made in May by a delegation of public housing residents, whose rents were arbitrarily increased, some substantially and without a written 30-day notice, it was contended.

It was commented that some of the public housing tenants now are paying between $400 and $500 monthly rents, a number, and sign persons to this Friday's session was held earlier this year in Alton, Sadtler advised.

A seminar similar in scope to this Friday's session was held earlier this year in Alton, Sadtler advised.

Chouteau Township has free U.S. commodities

Chouteau Township officials and senior citizens will give out surplus government commodities at the Chouteau Township Hall, 607 North Thurgate Drive, Milwaukee, starting at 9 a.m. Wednesday.

"We will have cheese, butter, dry milk and corn meal, to be given out on first-come, first-served basis, as long as each commodity lasts," notes Walter "Dick" Sparks, township supervisor.

To be eligible to receive commodities, persons must be a head of household or spouse, have verification of Chouteau Township residency and a Social Security number, and sign affidavit that the household income is within the following guidelines: one person monthly income, $488; two persons, $648; three persons, $808; four persons, $968; five persons, $1,128; six persons, $1,288; seven persons, $1,448; eight persons, $1,608; and for each additional member, add $128.

Senator Alan J. Dixon has asked that the president acknowledge the validity of the War Powers Act. The Illinois Democrat asserted that Congress has the authority to recall U.S. Marines stationed in Lebanon.

Speaking before the Community Assistance for Second Education in Israel group in Chicago, Dixon contended last week that while recent Supreme Court rulings declared the legislative veto provision of the law unconstitutional, other provisions of the Act still remain law.

The War Powers Act mandates that the president must submit a report to Congress when U.S. armed forces are engaged in hostilities or are in a situation where imminent involvement in hostilities is clearly indicated by the circumstances.

Once that determination is made, the troops must be brought home within 60 days unless Congress acts.

HITTING THE BOOKS AGAIN. Joan Winnert of East Alton and Gail Blight of Alton, student workers at Southern Illinois University at

Mitchell and Chouteau history reviewed by Mrs. Charles Lexow

The Old Six Mile Historical Society held its first meeting of the 1983-84 season at Central Christian Church, President Don Gargay welcomed the group and members were reminded that dues are now due and will be delinquent on Oct. 1.

A membership drive and display of some of the historical items, which have been donated to the society, is planned for Sept. 30 at the American Heritage Bank from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. and at the Colonial Bank from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m. Information about the society and membership categories will be distributed.

The Acquisition Committee reported that the P.T.A. of the new-century school has donated its records to the society for safe-keeping. The society welcomes similar gifts from other schools which have been closed, the president noted.

Mrs. Loraine Bischoff reported that the 2nd Annual Antique Show slated for Oct. 22 and 23, will be even better than last year's. Advance tickets are available from society members for $1.50, and price at the door will be $2.

Georgia Engleke reported on the "Brimberry House Tour" held during the weekend. She thanked the new owners, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Striel, for permitting the showing of their home. The money raised by the house tour will go into the society's building fund, she explained.

"Many colorful local legends have already grown around the Brimberry House and curious stories are driven past it daily," she said. "The house is not only a local landmark, however, stories about it have appeared in magazines and newspapers nationwide," Mrs. Engleke said.

"Old Mitchell" was the topic of the program presented by Mrs. Margaret Theis Lexow. "Mitchell is in Chouteau Township, that lies in what is known as the American bottom. Chouteau Township is bounded on the north by Woodrider Township, on the east by Edwardsville, on the south by Nameoki, and on the west by the Mississippi River."

"Long Lake is partially in Mitchell. It was probably, at one time, the channel of the Wood River," the speaker noted.

"My grandparents, the Theis, saw Indians in their canoes on the branch of Long Lake which runs parallel with Old Alton Road at Mitchell. Their frame and log story-and-one-half house was nearby."

In 1800 James Gillham settled in Chouteau Township, making him the first American settler in Chouteau. For a time he lived in Mitchell, hunting and trapping, and he was buried in the cemetery at Mitchell.

Andrew Emmert was a pioneer, coming to Mitchell in 1807.

"My grandparents, Henry and Hermine (Kahle) Theis, farmed and prospered. They moved into their new two-story brick home—the first brick house in Mitchell, near the old house, on the dirt road from St. Louis to Alton. It still stands, well preserved, over 100 years old. It was awarded a bronze plaque from Governor Dwight H. Green, stating that 'this farm home and grounds was judged the most attractive in Madison County in the 1941 Louis L. Emmerson Memorial Farm Floral Contest.'"

Five Theis boys, Henry, August, Charles, Edward, and Chris, and one girl, Anna, were born in this house, Mrs. Lexow explained.

Anna died when she was 13 years old. She became ill with pneumonia after getting caught in a snow storm, while riding her horse home from religious instruction at St. John's Church in Granite City. The family doctor, Dr. Fiesgenbaum, lived in Edwardsville, and the roads in the wet prairie were almost impossible in winter.

Edward later became a well known doctor in Granite City.

In 1915 my parents, August and Valerie (Mitchell) Theis, bought the farm from his mother. My grandmother Theis and the boys lived upstairs for a brief time before they moved to Cleveland Boulevard—'Silk Stocking Row' in Granite City. I was born in this house and have many memories of life on the farm, she added.

from Germany. These people were proud, hard working farmers, and they knew how to plant and harvest corn, potatoes, and hay.

"My father, like the other farmers, hauled their loads of potatoes, pulled by horses, to the St. Louis market. Father would leave home very early in the morning, cross the ferry at Venice, wait his turn at the market, wait the tired horses, and return some after dark. Sometimes cousin Alvin Mitchell, who was just a little boy, would accompany him.

Threshing time was very important to the farmers. Neighbors helped each other with their horses, wagons, and hired men. The one farm to another. A good wheat harvest paid the bills and put money in the bank. Two much rain or hail could ruin the crop. In 1917 my father had a very good year which helped pay the mortgage. He threshed 2,116 bushels of wheat at $2.50 a bushel.

My father had men help him harvest the corn crop. All work was done by hand. Corn stalks were laboriously cut with a corn knife, and stalks at a time. This was done after the ears were husked. Then the stalks were stacked like a tepee until they were loaded in wagons and brought home for storage. The ears of corn were fed to the animals and poultry, the speaker said.

Hobos helped the farmers. They stole rides in the boxcars on the railroads and came and went with the hobo season.

We had a large upstairs bedroom, with a separate stairway, just for the hired men. They enjoyed the large meals, including pies, cakes, and strong hot coffee, that mother put on the table. The men ate first, mother and I ate afterwards.

Mitchell, situated in section 33 and 34, was laid out by the C&A Railway. Records state that Mitchell was a splendid railroad center. The Chicago and Alton, Wabash, the New York Central, Granite City and St. Louis Traction, and Allen lines (the last two being electric) passed through Mitchell. When I was a child, I remember riding on the Blue Goose bus which took the Old Alton Road from Alton to St. Louis.

Many families came from Kentucky and Tennessee to work on the railroad at Mitchell. Some men left their families behind and stayed for a time at the two boarding houses. Mrs. Whyer's Boarding House was east of the tracks and Mrs. Netheringham's Boarding House was west of the tracks, near Bill and Max Hawk's Grocery Store. May Hawk was also the postmistress. I remember the long iron hitching rail out front of their buildings for tying up the horses.

A short distance down the dirt road was the Charles Hacketh Saloon where some of the farmers talked politics and farmed over a bottle or two of beer. No women ever came into the tavern, but occasionally a farm wife would telegraph to remind her husband that it was time to come home and milk the cows.

Albert Paul had a blacksmith shop across from St. Elizabeth's Church hall. The farmers brought their plowshares there to be sharpened.

At one time Mitchell had two hotels, a hotel and the Charles Lexow Hotel and General Store. Both were frame and destroyed by fire. Mitchell had a frame one room school, which I attended. The teacher taught all eight grades in one room. Some of the boys were at Alton as the teacher. Many years later I taught school in Mitchell.

I remember the two churches. One was Presbyterian; and the other was St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church. The Mitchell heirs donated the land for the churches. The Presbyterian minister had two congregations. One was at Mitchell and the other was in East St. Louis. He came for Sunday School and church at Mitchell on Sunday afternoon.

"Do you remember the Model T Ford? We had one. On many hot summer evenings my father took mother and me for a ride to 'cool off' before going to bed," Mrs. Lexow added.

She continued, "We would usually ride to the castle which was built from material from the St. Louis Worlds Fair. The castle was very pretty, one room had mirrors on all the walls and the ceiling. The castle was surrounded by a moat filled with water, and there were stone lions guarding the draw bridge; big trees and pretty flowers beautified the spacious lawn. Trains from St. Louis stopped at the castle to discharge party-goers.

On my way to school I passed near three Indian mounds. According to records in the Centennial History of Madison County, edited by W. J. Norton, in 1876, Henry R. Howland visited this group and found the largest of the three mounds was being removed to furnish building material for a dike across Long Lake, replacing a bridge. The mound was originally about 27 feet high and 127 feet in diameter. During the excavations workers found a deposit of human bones and a large number of relics.

The relics were chiefly of copper, including a number of small imitation tortoise shells made of beaten copper. There were also pointed implements of bone and wood, copper-plated, with workmanship showing a skill never before found in any discovered remains of the art of the Mound Builders.

Many Indian spades and pieces of pottery were found when the basement was dug for the Theis home. I have a letter from the Illinois State Museum, stating that an Indian village and mound, used by prehistoric native Americans of the Woodland and Mississippian Periods, was on the August Theis farm.

Prohibition started January 16, 1920. The nation went on a 13 year binge of gangsterism, corruption, murder, and the wholesale drinking of some of the most awful concoctions ever brewed, distilled, mixed, and poured by man.

Some St. Louis gangsters were known to "bang out" at a certain local establishment. I think my parents said it was the Egan Gang and the Dinty Colbeck Gang. It was rumored that their fights among the gangsters and killings where hoodlums were shot, thrown down the front steps, and rolled into nearby Long Lake—never to be heard of again.

My father was a deputy sheriff at that time and slept with a loaded gun on the window sill near their bed. (I still have his badge.)

Charles Lexow, my father-in-law, was the first scoutmaster in Mitchell, and organized a Boy Scout troop. Some of the Boy Scouts were his son Charles, Charles Hacketh, Robert K. Bush, Coleman Thorpe, and Ray and Rolfe Williams.

There were two restaurants in Mitchell—Bender's Restaurant, where meals were served in good weather on the large screened front porch, and "Mom" Ebelings Lake View Inn, where complete chicken dinners, including coffee, were sold for fifty cents, the speaker reminisced.

Continuing the history review, Mrs. Lexow said, two local girls boarded a train in Mitchell and left for Hollywood in the hope of becoming famous movie stars. Both married and stayed in California. One was Marie Bender, whose parents owned the restaurant. The other pretty girl was Elvira Hess.

The center of social life was St. Elizabeth's Hall which still stands, not far from Donaldson's Cafe. Square dances, box socials, Modern Woodmen, and Royal Neighbor Lodge dances were enjoyed there. Plays were given on the stage with local people in the cast. There were card parties with sandwiches, cake, and coffee served afterwards. Many people from Granite City came to these card parties to play bridge, pinocle, and bingo. These prizes were usually hand-made items.

Fishing, boating, and swimming were enjoyed in the spring-fed lake. Mrs. Lexow reminded the audience.

Many farm families owned player pianos. Someone would play the piano and a group would stand around singing. There was dancing to accordion, fiddle, and violin music. The food, including homebaked cakes and pies, was served.

Mitchell School and St. Elizabeth Church picnics were held on the Long Lake picnic grounds. The church's chicken dinners were served in the building. The chicken was fried in the basement of the Lexow home and delivered by my husband, Charles, in the Lexow Flood delivery truck.

Mitchell was flooded several times by the Mississippi River. During the flood of 1944 when the greater part of Chouteau Township was under water, it is recorded in the Centennial History of Madison County 1812-1912, that Ben Wood landed his boat at the largest of the Indian mounds, near Mitchell, and killed several marooned deer.

When the river threatened, families left their homes or moved upstairs. My father showed me a mark inside a shed in our yard, showing where the flood water had stood during the flood of 1903.

Mrs. Lexow said, "earlier, I mentioned the Lexow General Store. Only two of the ledgers remain. The rest were probably destroyed by the flood of 1903 or the fire. Here are a few of the interesting entries: In 1899—sold one span of mules to Frank Hanfelder for $165, sold Fred Huber two barrels of flour for $8.50, 1900—sold four plowshares to George L. Link for $11, sold two shirts to Fred Mabel for $1, sold seed wheat to Nathan Smith for $11.75—also axle grease for 75 cents also one binder for $17.50, sold 100 cigars to Frank Trochler for $2, sold one plow and twine to Henry Hommer for $14.25. Also in 1901—sold binder twine to Henry Theis for $33, 1902—sold 1,000 pounds twine to William Knufinke for $1.75, sold one keg nails to O. W. Segar for 75 cents, 1903—sold one carload of coal to C. W. Smith for $76.60, and sold two and one-half tons of hay to William Dickman for $25."

Brooks from St. Louis, seeing the need for homes for railroad families, laid out Brooks Subdivision. The parcel of land lies east of the railroad tracks. His sons, Lt. Colonel E. A. Brooks and Captain L. J. Brooks, helped lay out three more subdivisions, Brooks I, II, and III. Ernest A. Brooks donated one lot for a Methodist Church.

More business was starting, including Al Paul's Garage, Ben Eberhart's Garage, August Staude's Meat Market, George and Kate Kinder's Grocery Store, The White Pig Barbecue, Luna Cafe, Diamond Inn, and the White Swan Inn. Perhaps you remember some of these places.

"In concluding my talk, I wish to say that what I have told you is what I remember, and what my parents have told me. Charles and I have lived in Mitchell all of our lives," Mrs. Lexow said.

After the meeting, refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Don Gargay.

The next meeting of the Old Six Mile Historical Society will be held on Oct. 3, at Central Christian Church. The program will feature Robert Stevens. His topic will be "Granite City Reflections."
